CLOSE TO HAM

Famous Base Virtually Taken
by General Humbert's French Army

Gen. Mangin's Troops Are Now in Sight of Laon—
Advances Elsewhere

PARIS, Sept. 6, 12.30 p. m.—General
Humbert's army is making steady progress today in the region of Guilcard and Ham. Advances from the battle front say that the town of Ham has virtually been taken by the French forces.

PARIS, Sept. 6, 3.35 p. m.—General
Debeney's army is still steadily advancing in the direction of Ham, which has been completely encircled.

General Mangin's troops are now in sight of Laon, having positions within 10 miles of that city.

General Berthelet's soldiers have reached the Aisne on a large front.

John D. Wilson Implicated in Planting Bomb in Chicago Federal Building

L.W.W. Member, at One Time
Secretary to Haywood,
Now Under Arrest

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—In a statement
today, Michael P. Sullivan, assistant state's attorney, declared that John D.
Wilson, arrested last night, has been positively identified as having been implicated in planting the bomb in the Chicago Federal building. Explosion
of the bomb killed four persons and resulted in serious injury to a score of others. Wilson is a member of the
I.W.W. and is believed at one time to have been secretary to William D. Haywood, general secretary-treasurer.

In his announcement, Mr. Sullivan
said Wilson had been identified by four persons as the man seen running away
from the entrance to the federal building shortly before the bomb exploded.
He was described as "the man with a black fedora hat, who ran from the building, leaped into a black automobile and was whirled away."

Detectives who questioned Wilson
may be admitted he was employed as a bookkeeper by the I.W.W., and that he spent the greater part of Wednesday
in the federal building whether he went, he said, to arrange for the transfer of Haywood to the office of the federal prosecutor so that Haywood
might attend to some private business affairs.

He denied any connection with the explosion.

LIUT. MOOERS DEAD
Canadian Soldier Had Relatives Here—Lowell Boys
Missing and Wounded

Mrs. Frank L. Walsh, of 62 Lundberg street, this city, has received
official notice of the death of her brother, Lieutenant Robert Mooers, with a Canadian regiment "over there." Lieut. Mooers was wounded August 16 and died August 29. He was 31 years old, but he had been in the big fight four years, having enlisted at the age of 17. Besides his sister, Mrs.
Walsh, Lieut. Mooers had two aunts in this city, Miss Edith and Miss Ethel Mooers, of 1171 Middlesex street. He was born in Woodstock, N. B., and made his home there.

Missing and Wounded
According to information received here on Lowell men is missing and two others have been seriously wounded in France. The missing man is Private Henry L. Beauchamp, son of
Mr. and Mrs. Albert Beauchamp, of 2
Endicott street, who in his last letter
stated that he was recuperating from injuries in the head and left shoulder blade. He has been reported missing since June 8.

The wounded are Privates William H. Merrill and James Higgs. The former was severely wounded July 20,
according to word received by Mrs. F. G.
Bradley, of 7 Cheney place, nearest of Kin. Private Higgs is a member of the 72d Canadian battalion. He is the son of Mrs. Mary Higgs of 371 Lakeview avenue and has a wife and three children in this city.

Keystone of Hun Defensive System in West Menaced Fall of Ham Imminent

Enemy Still Fleeing Before French, British and Americans
All Along Front—Chauny Seriously Threatened—
Americans Move Up Along Aisne Line—Chemin-des-
Dames Line Virtually Outflanked—Big Allied Gains

(By the Associated Press)

Continuing their pressure along the front from Rheims to Tpres, the allied forces are pushing back the Germans
on virtually this entire 150-mile line.

Close In on St. Gobain

Telling progress has been made in particular by the French and Americans
along the southern part of the front. The French are before the old Hindenburg positions along a considerable stretch in this sector, where they are closing in upon the bastion
of St. Gobain, the keystone of the German defensive system in the west.

Allies Take Town After Town

Further north the enemy armies are still in retreat before the French and British, who are capturing town after town as they make rapid strides towards the line from which the Germans attacked in their offensive of last March. Ham is almost within the allied grasp and Chauny is seriously threatened.

Americans Hurl Germans Back

The Americans have moved up along
the Aisne line reaching the ground immediately south of the river. The Germans north of the stream appear inclined to halt temporarily but there seems to be no question but they will soon be forced to resume their backward march and not halt it again
until their old line at the Chemin-des-
Dames is reached.

Chemin-des-Dames Line Outflanked
Through the continued French progress on the German right flank north of the Aisne, however, the Chemin-des-
Dames line seems virtually outflanked
and the retirement may not stop short
of the Ailette.

Drive on Cambrai Halted

The campaign for Cambrai has halted as far as the push on the direct line for the city is concerned, but the advances which the Anglo-French forces are making southward along
the line are calculated to work noticeably toward the success of the main drive. The Somme and the Canal du Nord water barriers have been passed
in this sector, and the German stand-
back of the canal in the north may be rendered futile as the enemy flank
on the canal at Havincourt is menaced
by the drive farther south.

British Rush on in Flanders

On the Flanders front, the British pressure seems likely to drive the Germans farther than they apparently
had intended going in their retirement. Field Marshal Haig's troops are pressing in upon Armentieres both from the north and south, and their thrust seems likely soon to be considered as threatening Lille, the great manufacturing centre of northern France, southwest of Armentieres.

Move East from Neuve Chapelle

In this sector, the British are moving east from Neuve Chapelle and have pushed at several points beyond the old German line.

PAUL I. WINN
STARTS TO PROVE IT

What's in a name?
Paul I. Winn, a Methuen boy, started for Berlin this morning, under the auspices of the United States government and local exemption board number 19, from Tewksbury.
Syracuse, N. Y. Paul told the members of the exemption board that he intended to live up to his name and if the luck broke anywhere even,
he felt he could prove it so.

Local board 19 despatched 16 men to Syracuse this morning. Those who went were: James R. Ogston, Tewksbury; Roscoe L. Richardson, Draught; Alfred Simard, Chelmsford;
John E. German, Draught; Gordon B.
Butler and Harry E. Burton, both from North Chelmsford.

A party of Methuen boys consisted of Fred Roediger, Fred Waltenberg, Victor McKenzie, Joseph Bedard, Bernard Callard, William W. O'Brien,
Herman Bogler, Thomas S. Burton,
James Burns and Paul I. Winn.

Because of the fact that the headquarters of local board 19 are in Tewksbury, many Lowell people think that the men inducted into service by the Tewksbury board start for the training camps from Lowell.
Such is not the case, however. The boys from Draught and the towns surrounding Lowell, as well as from the city of Methuen, which is included in the same district, report at headquarters at Tewksbury when ordered to camp, and take the train from Tewksbury. They invariably find that they are sent to join a larger group of men coming from cities and towns on the North Shore. The party of 16 men leaving Tewksbury this morning goes to Boston, where it joins a larger group of men ticketed for Syracuse, and the big party starts for Syracuse from the South station.

Hun Resistance Breaks Down

The German resistance between the Aisne and the Vesle rivers has broken down completely before the persistent pressure of General Mangin's French and American forces. The Germans are in retreat, not of an orderly nature, but forced almost to the extent of flight. The Americans have advanced and occupy the heights on the south bank of the Aisne, the river below furnishing the Germans protection for the moment in organizing their retreat.

French Cross Aisne

The French forces of General Man-
gin's army have crossed the Aisne northeast of Solismans, captured Coucy-
Le-Chateau. To the north General
Humbert's French army has crossed
the Somme canal and advanced from two to four miles in a flanking movement on Ham, the fall of which is imminent. From Ham the Germans are believed to be utilizing the main roads
to St. Quentin and Lafore with the object of retreating.

BARTLETT IS APPOINTED CITY ENGINEER

The position of city engineer, which was made vacant a few months ago
by the enlistment in the army of City Engineer Stephen Kearney, who has been commissioned a captain in the Engineers' reserve corps, has been filled by Mayor Perry D. Thompson, who has appointed Arthur Bartlett to fill the position while Capt. Kearney is in the service. This announcement was made at city hall this morning by the mayor.

It will be remembered that shortly after Capt. Kearney left city hall an effort was made at a regular meeting of the city council by Commissioner Brown to have Mr. Bartlett elected to the position of city engineer, but Commissioner Morse, who is at the head of the engineer's office objected strenuously on the ground of economy. At that time Mr. Morse claimed that the work of the office would be done without an engineer in charge for all the employees of the department knew just what they had to do. The result of Mr. Morse's objections was a postponement of action.

The appointment on the part of Mayor Thompson was made by virtue of the authority vested in him by chapter 156 of the acts of 1918 and his letter of appointment to Mr. Bartlett is as follows:

Mr. Arthur Bartlett,
Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir:
By virtue of the authority vested in the mayor of the city of Lowell, pursuant to the provisions of chapter 156 of the general acts of 1918, I appoint you to fill the office of city engineer of the city of Lowell during the absence of Stephen Kearney, the regularly elected city engineer of the city of Lowell, who is now absent in the military forces of the United States of America.

Retreat of Germans to Release Divisions to Form a Maneuvering Mass

(By the Associated Press).
WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE, Sept. 6.—The retreat of Germans is continued and extended to release enough divisions to form a maneuvering mass and regain a liberty of action of which Marshal Foch's brilliant operations deprived them.

That is the expert opinion of the situation based on the best obtainable
evidence of the condition of the German army and concerning the views
prevailing among the German officers.
In the same expert opinion, the Germans are checked, but not check-mat-
ed. They still have resources that will enable them to continue stout defense and oblige the allies to make a
hard effort to clinch the victory which,
though inevitable, may still be further off than appears from optimistic
speculations based on recent successes.

Calculations based on the most accurate information available show that the Germans have lost 1,100,000 men
since March 21.

The American army in France next
spring will alone exceed the whole
fighting strength of the German army,
but in the meantime divisions released
by the shortening of the line, if the retreat is effected successfully, and
with a half a million men recuperated
from the wounded and 400,000 men of the 1920 class now completing training, will constitute a maneuvering
army with which General Ludendorff
may be tempted to hazard another stroke.

DOCTORS ADVISE
SPRING TONICS

Say There Is Nothing Equals
Iron and Phosphates

Experienced Doctors claim that everyone should take a good tonic in the Spring, that during the cold winter months we all eat too much meat, fats, heavy foods and too little fresh vegetables, that the entire system is clogged up, overloaded and overworked, causing thin, impure, watery blood and that tired, nervous feeling, pimples and bad complexion.

Honest doctors all over the land have found and are recommending and prescribing phosphates and iron as their spring tonic for the blood and nerves, they say it removes all impurities, unclogs the channels and sends the rich, red life-giving blood through the veins, renewing health, strength and nerve force as nothing else will.

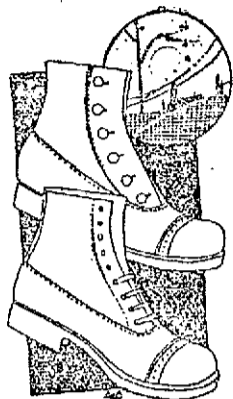

If you are all in, run down, fagged out and your nerves all shot to pieces and the joy gone from life, take Phosphated Iron, the red blood and nerve builder. It will make a new man or woman of you, make you feel like doing things again, renew that youthful feeling, you can almost feel yourself coming back. Try Phosphated Iron today, it has helped thousands and will not disappoint you.

To insure physicians and their patients getting the genuine Phosphated Iron it is put up in capsules only, do not allow dealers to give you pills or tablets. Insist on capsules.

War Time Tailoring
Demands Service

There is a great deal left to the imagination in the tailoring of a suit. Fully 60 per cent. of the tailoring, the most vital parts, are entirely hidden. There are many suits that to all outward appearances are beautifully made, but which prove disappointing after wear because all of the tailoring was on the outside, and the hidden parts slighted.

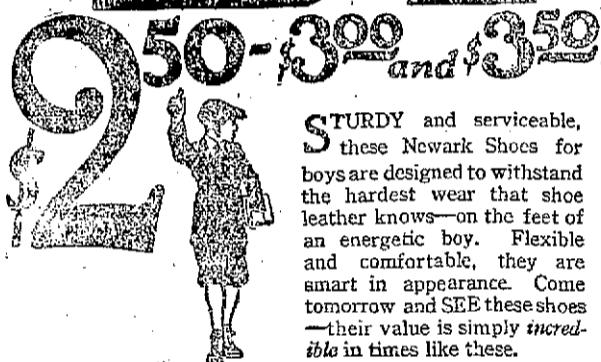

Your guarantee in buying a suit here is that every bit of tailoring, inside and out, is as perfect as the best tailors in the country can give.

PRES. WILSON NOT TO HUN CHANCELLOR VON HERTLING RESIGNS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—It is extremely unlikely that President Wilson will make a tour of the country in behalf of the fourth Liberty loan. Because of the pending revenue legislation and other important matters, the president was understood yesterday to feel that a prolonged absence from Washington this month would be unwise.

While no definite announcement that the president would make a swing around the country speaking for the loan had been made, it was generally understood that he was planning a trip that would take him to the Pacific coast.

PLANS FOR THE TRICENTENARY CELEBRATION OF LANDING OF THE PILGRIMS

PLYMOUTH, Sept. 6.—Plans for the tricentenary celebration of the landing of the Pilgrims, which will be held in 1920, were discussed today at the 8th general congress of the General Society of Mayflower Descendants, which convened here. Delegates were present from states throughout the east. The society is preparing to co-operate with the state authorities in promoting the celebration, and suggestions were offered today regarding the general plans laid down by the state commission in charge. The sessions of the congress will continue through tomorrow. The Massachusetts branch of the society also held its annual meeting today.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—Count George von Hertling, the Imperial German chancellor, has resigned, giving bad health as the cause for his retirement, according to the Geneva correspondent of the Daily Express quoting a despatch in Geneva from Munich, Bavaria.

The local branch of the auxiliary of the 101st Regiment, and, in common with branches of the 101st auxiliary located in all cities and towns in the state where soldiers from that town or city are serving in the 101st, the local women after careful planning and perfecting of campaign details, will try to collect money enough from patriotic people here tomorrow so that the aggregate sum will reflect with credit and honor on the generosity of the city.

The money thus collected will be put with the sums collected in other places including Boston and sent to France to be used by the proper regimental authorities to buy comforts and little necessities the soldiers in the trenches need so badly to help him stand the hardship of the terribly hard life in the trenches and in fact in all parts of the military area.

Young women will dot the downtown streets tomorrow, each carrying a card on which has been printed "101st Infantry, U.S.A., 12 Months' Foreign Service." They will carry baskets of little bunches of artificial daisies, and the Idea is that you make a contribution to one of these women and she pins one of these bunches of daisies to your coat and this is a token that you are to be let alone the rest of the day, but the man or woman who is seen on the street tomorrow without the insignia of kindness will be advertising either that he or she has no money, or that the 12 months of brave and valiant service by our Lowell boys, in the course of which it has been inevitable that some boys should make the last great and supreme sacrifice, means nothing and that their hearts are adamant to an appeal made to gratitude.

The organization of the program for tomorrow has been very thorough and besides the solicitors to be seen on the street, arrangements have been made so that girls with these bunches of daisies will be permitted to canvass all the mills, shops and stores, and the workers cannot say that they have been skipped in the chance offered for them to make any small contribution toward his duty.

The Lowell branch of the fund will be in charge of Mrs. William H. Merritt, chairman, and she will be assisted by 25 women captains, each of whom will have a group of 15 or 20 women workers. In many cases the captains have asked that they might select the members of the teams they are to act as leader of and this has been done. The women are to be assisted also by members of the O.M.L. Cadets.

The observance of "fund day" is to also take on some civic significance as Mayor Thompson has asked all the bell ringers of the city, including the mill bell ringers, to peel their bells at noon to call attention to the fund being collected for the 101st boys in France. The commissioner of public safety has agreed to order one of the fire trucks to come to the centre of the city at the noon hour, also to help advertise the fund.

LOWELL SOCIAL SERVICE LEAGUE

The regular monthly meeting of the directors of the Lowell Social Service League, Inc., was held on Wednesday, Sept. 4 at 81 Merrimack street. A report was read of the work accomplished during the month of August, dealing with certain cases of family problems, on-operation, and results obtained, and participation in activities in aiding the best interests of the city. The league was in touch with problems of more families during August, numbering 283, than in the month of July which had been considered the busiest one yet experienced. There have been 198 new cards added in the confidential exchange.

In closing the report the general secretary said:

"The league is again this year represented on the executive committee of the Massachusetts state conference of charities. As a member of the sub-committee on program, I have just this morning received what is probably the final draft of the program; it includes an evening session on 'Reducing the Number of the Feeble-Minded'; two sessions, morning and afternoon, on 'Child Conservation'; including 'The Children's Year'; 'The Principles of Home Finding and Child Placing'; 'The War in its Relation to Child Life'; and 'A Comprehensive State Children's Program' an evening on 'A New Campaign Against An Old Evil'; a morning on 'Women in War Industries'; and afternoon on 'Preventive Case Work'; including presentation of cases in public poor relief; family care; public health; Red Cross home service. The conference this year is to be held at Springfield, Mass., October 30 through Nov. 1."

Then she gave a brief account of the interest taken by the volunteer workers, and said that although during the summer months there were not quite so many at the league, still many former workers have again shown a desire to help, as well as several new comers. She pointed out that it will be much better to have a definite time stated by the workers as to when they can assist, even if it is only a few hours each week.

While making measurements of river flow in the Mississippi river basin and in the Hudson bay recently, the United States geological survey discovered that some of the rivers under investigation empty into the Arctic ocean during certain seasons and into the Atlantic ocean at other times.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM LOWELL SOLDIERS IN THE WAR ZONE

Devonshire, England, Aug. 15th.

Dear Sally: Just a line hoping you are all doing fine as I am myself. I was hit a week ago this morning in the big advance. I just got to Fritz line when one shell got four of us. My captain is here, too. He got shrapnel through the shoulder, a bad one and the bone broken. My battery is practically wiped out so he says, but Fritz sure got hell. His dead was piled up around his line from our barrage. We went over at 4:20 a. m. with the first wave, but he caught us with his whizz bang barrage, and I had to make a shell hole and tie up my wound, and I stayed there a few minutes until I could move off. I never expected to get through his barrage to the dressing station, as his heavy were pounding our artillery and I had two or three miles to walk out, but I made it and my leg was painful and very stiff. I am having the piece taken out today. This is a new place, a heavy ride from Plymouth, and the sisters use us all here. There is quite a lot of Canadian wounded. We left the line at 4:30 after being in 13 days on the 1st of August and went "over the top" at Mangard Wood east of Amiens on the morning of the 5th. They sure had Fritz guessing, his prisoners were rolling in the first few minutes and we got all kinds of souvenirs, watches, rings, iron crosses, etc. I had nothing of my own coming out as I had to jump it when I was hit. I landed in the hospital at Rouen with only my tin hat and gas mask. Did look a mess too, all blood and whiskers, but believe me I was happy. It sure was a great day. I suppose they called you I was wounded, they always do. I wrote your mother from Rouen. Well, will let you know how I come out of my operation. Give my love to all. My mail is tied up again now, through coming brightly. Best of luck and write soon.

Yours, GEORGE.

Private Mullen
Private Frank L. Mullen, Co. K, 104 U.S. Infantry, writes as follows to his mother, Mrs. F. Mullen, 222 Charles street:

Somewhere in France, July 29, 1918.

My Dear Mother: You must forgive me for not writing sooner, but really I am doing the best I can. As you know, I am at school here and all my time is taken up attending lectures, pouring over notes and taking notes. Just imagine, my day begins at 6:15 and ends at 5 p. m., so you see I will not have much time to myself for months to come, but I will try to learn all I can so when I am needed I will be able to give them the best that can be given. As to my health, I never felt better. Really, mother, I am getting big and fat every day, so when I come home you will not know me. Oh, just wish you were here and I know you would be happy. I am having the time of my life. The people here are just splendid and are kind to us. We have a number of friends who take us to their houses and make us feel right at home, sitting around the fireplace and brewing tea for us. The girls are just crazy to marry an American. Of course I am going to come back to Lowell to get married. I can imagine how it is in Lowell at this time and feel as though I have something to be thinking of, as I suppose the people in Lowell enjoy that early closing stuff. It must be hard on some of them to have to go home at 10 o'clock. Well that is only one of the privations of war. Won't it be a grand and glorious day when peace is declared. I just can't almost see the day when the boys over here, as they almost have the old Bill Kaiser now. Well mother, I have seen quite a lot of Lowell boys just come back and they are all in health and do you know who I saw last night—my old friend Jack and believe me I was mighty glad to see him. Well I must close now, with best regards to everybody.

From your loving son, FRANK.

FOOD RULES FOR 1919

The Number of Substitutes for Wheat Flour Has Been Reduced

BOSTON, Sept. 5.—The Massachusetts committee on public safety yesterday issued a statement of the food regulations for the coming year, as worked out by Federal Administrator Hoover in conference with the food administrators of the countries with which we are allied in the war.

It says these rules are the same as are being made for our allies, and that by the strict observance of them and the continued use of corn here, the people of Massachusetts may feel that they are doing their part in sustaining the fighting forces.

Authorized List Reduced

The list of authorized flour substitutes has been reduced to cornmeal, chaffinets. No other cereals than the and, at the customer's option, rice flour, potato flour, buckwheat flour and a few other flours that are not sold in Massachusetts. No other cereals than the above are now allowed to be sold as substitutes. Hominy, corn grits, corn starch, rolled oats, oatmeal and rice have been stricken from the list.

The proportion of substitutes required to be sold has been changed from "50-50" to "40-60" except in the case of rye flour, of which two pounds must be sold to three pounds of straight wheat flour. That is, the retailer must now sell to the consumer at least one pound of certified corn flour, barley flour, or of the other permitted substitutes, with each three pounds of straight wheat flour sold; or two pounds of pure rye flour with each three pounds of wheat flour sold.

The same rules apply to sales to public eating houses, clubs and boarding houses, as to sales to individual consumers.

Bakers are also required to use 20 per cent substitutes in all their bread, pastry, etc., but the supplier is not responsible for the amount of substitutes that the baker buys.

FREIGHT CONGESTION IN EAST THING OF PAST

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Freight congestion in the east is a thing of the past, and munitions and food are reaching the Atlantic seaboard as fast as ships can be provided to carry them overseas, according to reports made by the 50 federal railroad managers to Director-General McAdoo and Regional Director A. H. Smith, at a conference here yesterday. Passenger traffic is fully 25 per cent greater than ever, before.

Mr. McAdoo, addressing the federal managers, said the railroads of the country are "out of anything." Thousands of empty cars are ready at important points to move the crops out of that region. He emphasized the need of each railroad manager synchronizing his work and urged them to view their work from the personal as well as the technical standpoint. Delays were not only dangerous, he said, but victory itself depended on the transportation system of the United States measuring up to its task to feed and equip the soldiers at the front.

Complimenting Regional Director Smith of the east, J. H. Francis of New England, and H. Worcester of Ohio and eastern Indiana, he declared there was not a car in the country but could be moved to its destination speedily and that "We don't allow stuff to be loaded until we find there is a ship to take it away."

Referring to the congestion, Mr. McAdoo said that when the government

Gompers Tells the British Labor Congress Government Should Act

DERBY, England, Sept. 5.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and William Bowen, president of the International Bricklayers' union, yesterday visited the British labor congress, which is now in session here, and delivered their fraternal greetings. Mr. Gompers, who spoke at some length, received an enthusiastic greeting.

After speaking of the complete agreement that existed between the American government and labor on the subject of the war, he said he did not agree with the old governments of England in their treatment of Ireland. "My sympathy was with Ireland, and is now with the heart of real Ireland," he declared.

He added that after the Boer war the conquered Boers were found fighting for their mother country, and that England should have pledged themselves to grant Ireland her just demand for home rule.

After telling the labor congress what American labor was doing in the war, he said:

"I would not prolong this war one minute longer than is necessary. But I would be unwilling to shorten it one hour if it meant that the military machine was to continue, and would bring the next decade into another war."

The labor congress presented Mr. Bowen a gold watch, and gave Mr. Gompers some silver plate for Mrs. Gompers.

A crab apple tree on the Cornish farm in North Bath, Me., bore a blossom and fruit on the same branch recently. William T. Pero, who now carries on this farm, was for some years connected with the state forestry department, and has made quite a study of trees, but this is the first time he has found anything like this freak of nature.

MRS. DE WEESE COULD NOT STAND

Because of Functional Disorder—Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Oakland, Cal.—"I suffered from irregularities and congestion, so I could not stand on my feet for any long period of time and did not sleep well. The physician who treated me did not seem to help me any and a friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and before I realized it I was well. I shall recommend your valuable remedy to my friends."

—Mrs. L. H. DE WEESE, 605 Alcatraz Ave., Oakland, Cal.

Every woman at some period or other in her life suffers from just such disturbances as did Mrs. Weese, and if there is no interested friend to advise, let this be a reminder that this famous root and herb remedy has been overcoming these ailments of women for more than 40 years.

The letters constantly being published from women in every section of this country prove beyond question the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

BOSTON YEOWOMAN AND SAILOR KILLED

HAMPTON FALLS, N. H., Sept. 6.—P. J. O'Brien, a second class seaman attached to the Charlestown navy yard, and Miss Mary A. Monahan of 1407 Commercial street, Allston, a yeowoman at the same yard were killed last night when the auto in which they were driving struck a gravel pile near the residence of Charles Johnson on the state boulevard and overturned. Miss Maria A. George of Cambridge, Mass., also a yeowoman attached to the commandant's office at the Charlestown yard, was probably fatally injured.

According to Johnson, the car was going so fast that it rolled over two or three times. All of the occupants were thrown clear of it. O'Brien landed between the car trucks and lived only a few minutes.

The injured women were rushed to the Cottage hospital at Exeter as soon as an ambulance could be procured. Miss Monahan dying shortly after her arrival. Miss George is injured internally and at the hospital it was stated that she was not expected to live.

Medical Referee Zander ordered the bodies turned over to a local undertaker to await orders from the naval authorities. It was stated last night that the bodies would be taken to the Portsmouth navy yard to be prepared for burial.

It is a straight piece of roadway where the accident happened and it is believed that O'Brien lost control of the machine when it struck the pile of gravel on the side of the road. According to Johnson, the sole witness of the accident, no other car was in sight at the time.

Among O'Brien's effects was found a summons to appear in the third district court on Sept. 3 to answer to the charge of speeding on the Charles river parkway in Cambridge.

Miss George and Miss Monahan are yeowomen at the Charlestown navy yard. Miss George formerly lived in Somerville and Miss Monahan was a resident of Charlestown, but both have recently moved.

Miss George last October was awarded a certificate of honor and a medal of merit for the remarkable success she attained in raising $3000 by means of a ball held last summer for the Naval Relief society.

LOWELL NORMAL SCHOOL WELL REPRESENTED

The Lowell Normal school has been well represented at the four-days' Normal school conference being held at Bridgewater this week, as nearly all the teachers were present at the conference, many of them taking an active part in the program. John J. Mahoney, principal of the Lowell school was elected at yesterday's session to act as vice president of the new state organization that was formed.

On Tuesday Mr. Mahoney opened a discussion on "The Responsibility of the Normal School in a More Rapid Extension of Instruction in Citizenship" which was led by Miss Blanche A. Cheney of Lowell. On Wednesday night Albert Edmund Brown, assisted by Mrs. Brown, gave a song recital. On Thursday Miss Sarah E. Lovell was the leader of the topic "A Standard Course in Oral and Written English," and Miss Edith R. Sanders was a speaker in the "School Garden Work" discussed. The Lowell teachers return to the city today.

DRACUT NEWS

On next Thursday between the hours of 7 a. m. and 9 p. m. all male persons in the town of Dracut between the ages of 18 and 45, except those already registered, must register in the Grange hall in Dracut Centre. Town Clerk John W. Brennan, who has charge of the work, states that he is doing his best to make the work as easy as possible for all concerned and he wishes to ask the assistance of anyone who may be able to help in the work of registration. All persons who can assist and would like to volunteer their services should notify Mr. Brennan on or before next Saturday.

Andrew J. McGarry, proprietor of the Ideal Market, received a bad cut Wednesday when a tonic bottle which he was holding in his hand exploded. The cut was a painful one and the attending physician took seven stitches in it in order to close it. Mr. McGarry states that the occurrence was a great surprise to him as he had never encountered anything of a similar nature in his long experience. This incident serves to demonstrate the fact that even such a mild beverage as soda pop may prove dangerous sometimes.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Marshal Foch is credited by some of the German newspapers with adopting a "new method of defense learned from Hindenburg." The allied commander is said by the German correspondent of the Berlin Vorwaerts to have applied the method to the defensive fighting just before the great allied offensive began at the Marne salient in July. The method is described as a withdrawal of troops from the first line and placing the main force on the second line. This weakened the effect of the German artillery. "Enemy batteries were in such deep formation," writes the Vorwaerts correspondent, "that their barrage struck the German attack not in front of the first line, but only in front of the second line. This defensive action, learned from Hindenburg, naturally demands a new method of attack which will not be long in coming."

SAYS GERMAN ARMIES SAFEGUARDING HOMES

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 6.—Vienna newspapers received here continue to print interviews with Field Marshal von Hindenburg and Gen. Ludendorff, the latest appearing in the Neues Wiener Journal and Az Est.

"The war has now been concentrated ad upon French territory," Gen. Ludendorff is quoted as saying, "and by the enormous mobilization of troops and materials has assumed proportions which have thrown everything hitherto accomplished in the shade. We thus far have stood the bitter struggle honorably and are confident that we will continue to do so."

"We may all be thankful that the war in the form it has assumed has on the whole been spared us in our home territory. The armies of the central powers are safeguarding their homes."

active measures to prevent depredations. Further action by the government has been temporarily blocked as a result of the resignation of the ministry on Tuesday. The matter is now resting until a new cabinet has been formed. Feeling among the German people against the German out- rage is running high.

NARROW GAUGE R.R. MEN STRIKE

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 6.—Traffic on the Sandy river and Rangeley Lakes railroad was suspended by a strike today of its 65 conductors, baggagemen, brakemen, engineers and firemen to enforce a demand for a wage increase of about 25 per cent.

The road is a narrow gauge system, extending from Farmington to Rangeley with a branch to Bigelow, and having a trackage of 75 miles.

The present wage is $2.75 for engineers, $2.05 for conductors, $2.35 for baggagemen and $2.15 for brakemen and firemen.

CHILE IS NEAR BREAK WITH GERMANY

(By cable to the Committee on Public Information)

SANTIAGO, Chile, Sept. 5.—The attempt of German crews to destroy their interned ships in Chilean harbors on Tuesday night caused a sensation and a wave of indignation has swept through Chile. The plot to destroy the ships apparently was carefully planned, as crews of these three different ports acted simultaneously, using dynamite to destroy the machinery.

The German steamers interned in Chilean ports number 32, while the total number of sailing vessels is 57. The tonnage of the steamers and sailing vessels aggregated 230,000. Seven steamers were damaged.

Hand him another — Quick!

IT'S life or death in the trench—there must be no delay in supplying every man in France with EVERYTHING that he may need or want in his job of licking the Hun. Many a man's life will hang on there being another rifle ready to his hands, a new, keen-edged bayonet, a plentiful supply of grenades. Back of every man who goes over the top and into the Hun's trenches there must be a steady, unending flow of supplies.

Our job over here is to MAKE SURE the supplies are there and at hand. That means working every minute of every working day. It means, too, STICKING to the job. And there is one of our gravest dangers. America is losing more through thoughtless changing of jobs, thoughtless hiring of men than through almost any other one thing. It costs on the average $20 to $200 every time a man changes his job. The man loses time. A machine stands idle that ought to be working top speed on those war supplies.

Changes, of course, must be made, for the war industries need more and more men. But don't let's make changes from one essential

war work to another unless there's a mighty good reason.

For this purpose the Government has established the United States Employment Service with 500 branch offices and 20,000 U. S. Public Service Reserve agents to help men find war work and to help manufacturers find more men without interfering with other war work. Use this Service—it is free—prompt. It covers the country. It is one sure way of knowing that you are HELPING to win the war.

Address the nearest U. S. Employment Office or the Director General at Washington.

PRESIDENT'S STATEMENT

"Industry plays as essential and honorable a role in this great struggle as do our military armaments."

"Therefore, I solemnly urge all employers engaged in war work to refrain after August 1st, 1918, from recruiting unskilled labor in any manner except through this central agency [U. S. Employment Service.] I urge labor to respond as loyally as heretofore to any calls issued by this agency for voluntary enlistment in essential industry. And I ask them both alike to remember that no sacrifice will have been in vain, if we are able to prove beyond all question that the highest and best form of efficiency is the spontaneous co-operation of a free people."

BRILLIANT STRATEGY

Americans Smash Hindenburg Line by Battle Nearly 100 Miles From It

AMERICAN HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Thursday, Sept. 5.—Evangel—There never was a nearer instance of a strategic offensive than the fashion in which the Germans along the Vesle were put to flight by a blow struck many miles to the west of them. Had we attempted to force the line of the Vesle tactically we should have lost at least 10,000 men and possibly three times that number.

By the blow struck on the Soissons plateau the Vesle has been cleared in the operations along the Ailette. Some of the finest divisions of the German army have been prevented from holding up the British advance and the Hindenburg line thus has been broken by a battle nearly 100 miles away from it.

PRES. WILSON ASKS FULL REPORT ON ROUNDUP

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—President Wilson has asked Attorney-General Gregory for a complete report of the circumstances surrounding the "slack-round-up" in New York city this week, in which upwards of 40,000 men were taken into custody by agents of the department of justice, the military intelligence bureau and soldiers and sailors, on suspicion that they were attempting to evade the selective service law.

Not Ordered by Crowder

The president's purpose in calling for a report from the attorney-general was not made known. His request was transmitted after the matter had been vigorously debated yesterday in the senate and Senator Smoot of Utah, republican, had offered a resolution proposing an investigation by the senate military committee to establish who issued orders for the use of soldiers and sailors in the round-ups. Objection by Senator Kirby of Arkansas, democrat, caused the resolution to go over, but Senator Smoot plans to call it up again Monday.

The round-ups were conducted under the direction of federal district attorneys, who unquestionably acted under guidance from Washington. At the office of Provost Marshal General Crowder yesterday it was said that will help to make it well and relieve the smart and pain.

It won't itch now, dear

Do not neglect a spot of eczema, rash, or other itching, burning eruptions and sores, because children's skins are easily irritated, and if the hurt is neglected, obstinate trouble may persist in later life.

the arrests were made without authority from or knowledge of that office. It was regarded as possible, however, that representatives of the office in New York had assisted in the work. No word was forthcoming from the war and navy departments as to who issued orders for soldiers and sailors to participate.

Chamberlain Protest

In calling the attention of the senate yesterday to the wholesale arrests Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the military committee, said he objected to such unauthorized procedure. He was joined in his protest by Senators Calder of New York, Johnson of California, Sherman of Illinois, republicans, and other senators, while Minority Leader Lodge was insistent that the country should know who was responsible for the employment of the nation's fighting men in such an undertaking.

Senators Poinsett of Washington, republican, and Kirby defended the wholesale arrests, the former declaring that the government should be commended and not denounced for seeking out slackers.

Protests Arrest of Innocent

Senator Chamberlain said slackers, whom he despised, should be located by legal, orderly means. The country, he added, would not tolerate the arrests of thousands of innocent young men in order to reach the guilty as had been the case in New York.

Senator Johnson said the purpose of the authorities was to spread terrorism and he pleaded for preservation of personal freedom, saying such action as that in New York was to have been expected in a country like Germany but not in a republic like the United States.

SHIPBUILDING POLICY

Each Eastern Yard Will Confine Itself to Construction of One Type of Vessel

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 6.—The emergency fleet corporation, through Director General Charles M. Schwab and Vice President Charles Pies, is working out a new shipbuilding policy, whereby each eastern yard will confine itself to the construction of one type of vessel.

"It ought to increase the ship production next year by several hundred thousand tons," said Mr. Schwab. "It will place eastern yards on the same footing as those of the west. It also will help to improve the distribution of steel and increase the production of each yard."

The present contract will be allowed to run to completion, but every new agreement will be for a design of ship for each specific plant.

TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL MEETING

A regular meeting of the Trades and Labor council was held last evening at 32 Middle street with President Francis A. Varnock in the chair. A protest against the awarding of a second prize to the Woolen Spinners' union for the best motto in the Labor day parade was received from the Beavers' union on the ground that the Woolen Spinners did not carry any motto and it was the sentiment of the meeting that the organization was not entitled to the prize. Routine business was transacted and a vote of thanks was extended the public for the large attendance at the sporting events on the common Labor day and to the various organizations that took part in the parade.

Carders and Pickers

Twelve applications for membership were received at a regular meeting of the Carders and Pickers' union, which was held at 32 Middle street last evening. In the absence of the president the meeting was presided over by Pres. John Hanley of the Lowell Textile council.

Bill to Prosecute Persons Who Seek Fees From Relatives of Dead Soldiers

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Two years' imprisonment for persons who seek fees from relatives of dead soldiers for collecting back pay and allowances is proposed in a bill by Representative Treadway of Massachusetts ordered favorably reported today by the house military committee.

Lawyers in Washington and elsewhere, he told the committee, had begun a systematic search for relatives of fallen soldiers with a view to profiting from unnecessary services in connection with money due from the government.

The evening session was presided over by Mrs. Elvira Giles Flanders and the meeting closed with the salute to the flag.

13 NORWEGIAN SHIPS SUNK IN AUGUST

LONDON, Sept. 6.—Norway lost thirteen vessels, aggregating 22,976 tons through war causes in August, according to an announcement made today at the Norway legation here. Two Norwegian sailors lost their lives.

LEAVE AREAS FOR AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES

PARIS, Sept. 6.—Leave areas for the American expeditionary forces have been selected in the towns of La Bourboule and Mont-Doge, according to an announcement printed in the Stars and Stripes, the official newspaper of the army in France. These two towns celebrated since the days of the Romans for their hot springs, can accommodate 5000 soldiers. Situated in a high altitude, they will afford later excellent winter sports, such as skiing, snow shoeing and sleighing.

BILERICA SCHOOLS

Bilerica public schools will open next Monday. Pupils entering the first grade must have attained the age of five previous to April of this year and must have a doctor's certificate of vaccination. Sophomores, seventh and eighth grade pupils will report at the high school at 8:30 o'clock, juniors at 9:30, seniors at 10:30 and freshmen at 1:30.

GIRLS! USE LEMONS FOR SUNBURN, TAN

Try it! Make this lemon lotion to whiten your tanned or freckled skin.

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle, sunburn and tan lotion, and complexion whitener, at very, very small cost. Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of Orchard White for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands and see how quickly the freckles, sunburn, windburn and tan disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Test! It is harmless.—Adv.

British Government Has
Proof of Destruction of 150 German Raiders

List of Authors of Atrocious
Crimes—Man Who Sank
Lusitania on List

LONDON, Sept. 6.—Although the British government does not intend to adopt the practice of giving proof of official utterances made by its ministers, it has been thought desirable to print in the newspapers the names of the commanding officers of 150 German submarines which have been disposed of, in order to substantiate the statement of Premier Lloyd George in the house of commons, that "at least 150 of these ocean pests have been destroyed."

Most of Officers Dead
The statement published does not include the names of officers commanding Austrian submarines put out of action.
A majority of the 150 officers mentioned are dead. Some of them are prisoners of war, and a few are interned in neutral countries where they took refuge.

Kapitan-Lieutenant Schweiger, who while in command of the U-20 torpedoed the Lusitania in May, 1915. The U-20 was lost on the British coast in 1918, but Schweiger survived and was in command of the U-39, which was lost with all hands in September, 1917.
Kapitan-Lieutenant Paul Wagenfuker, who sank the steamer Belgian Prince, July 31, 1917, and drowned 40 of the crew, whom he had ordered to line up on the submarine's deck when the U-boat was about to submerge. His submarine, the U-44, was sunk with all hands about a fortnight later.

Kapitan-Lieutenant Rudolph Schmelzer, who torpedoed the steamer Arabic in August, 1915.
The statement says it is significant that the authors of particularly atrocious crimes have expiated them speedily after their commission. It says the names of such men are carefully noted by the British admiralty and that special endeavors are made

Alkali Makes Soap Bad For Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.
The best thing to use is just plain mulitised coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.
Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

to bring their active careers swiftly to an end. Several commanders, it is added, have escaped retribution by finding refuge in short appointments.

Prominent among those named as having escaped retribution, but whom the British navy has on its list, are, according to the statement, Kravatten-Kapitan Max Follenstener, who was responsible for many sinkings of vessels, among them the Norwegian steamer Magda, the Spanish steamer Pena Castillo, the Italian steamer Ancona and the British steamer Persia; Kapitan-Lieutenant Wilhelm Werner; for the sinking of hospital ships, and the Korvetten-Kapitan Freiherr Von Forstner, who when in command of the U-28 sank the British steamers Falaba and Agula.

ACTS TO AVERT STRIKE OF BOSTON FIREMEN

BOSTON, Sept. 6.—Possibility of averting the threatened strike of the Boston firemen is found in the announcement by Mayor Peters of an immediate increase to $1100 for all firemen now receiving $900 or $1000, and who have served at least three months; the elimination of the $1000 grade altogether, establishing $1100 as the minimum for new men after three months probation and the promise to consider the demands of the higher paid men when the budget for 1919 is prepared.

The mayor did not wish it to be understood that his action was taken under the threat of a strike, but that it was taken as a result of prolonged investigation, a report from the finance commission having been received yesterday, and conferences with Fire Commissioner Grady. The $13,000 to $14,000 additional money will be found by dipping into the $22,000 surplus now existing in the payroll appropriation resulting from failure to obtain the full complement of men required by the going into effect of the one-day-off-in-three ordinance.

Mayor Peters realizes that the malcontents in the department may refuse to consider his offer, and at the first sign of trouble he will request Gov. Meall to call out the state guard to man the department to any extent required. While he trusts that the firemen generally will accept the solution of the problem, he adds significantly: "Those who do not wish to do so may of course resign their positions and seek higher paid employment elsewhere."

MORALE OF GERMANS IS WEAKENING

WITH AMERICAN TROOPS IN FRANCE, Sept. 6.—(By the Associated Press)—Every evidence obtainable by the Americans as they press upon the German armies points to the gradual, continuous and ever-more-rapid weakening morale of the troops and the lowering of their effectiveness to a serious point.

The American military authorities draw this conclusion from the action of the German command in shortening the line by voluntary withdrawals, its enforcement of longer tours of duty in the front trenches upon the troops, the coming of the service for infantrymen, the disbanding of storm battalions to bolster up inferior divisions, and even the use of Austrian troops on the western front.

At least seven German divisions have been disbanded so that the men might be used to replace losses sustained during the summer campaign. Some separate regiments have been broken up also. Prisoners declare that the practice of forming storm battalions had so weakened the infantry regiments that it had to be given up.

The number of German divisions classified as "Tested" dropped rapidly from 54 on July 15 to 50 on Aug. 21. Twenty-nine were originally designated as first-class, but only 13 were so designated on the August date. Seven had only had two weeks' rest at that time. In many cases German divisions have had to remain in line for long periods, and fully 150 of the first-line divisions have been fighting continuously from two and one-half to four months.

A captured document shows that a plan has been projected to disband the fourth company of every battalion which had fallen below 650 men, reducing the battalion to three companies. The advantage of this plan, it is pointed out by German officers, is that the arrangement would result in lessened needs for officers; equipment and men will thus be available to fill up the depleted units which it is hoped to retain, although the strength of trench companies has fallen to from 60 to 50 men.

BRITISH DOWNED 4000 HUN AIRSHIPS IN YEAR

LONDON, Sept. 6.—The British, during the year ending June 30 last, brought down considerably over 4000 German aircraft, while British machines missing have only slightly exceeded 1000 it is officially announced.
"German machines refuse battle unless they have a decided superiority in numbers," it is added. "Where numbers are equal British victory is assured; where numbers are with the Germans, British victory is very frequent."

Wall paper is important because it can be changed easily. If you possess fabric covered walls and grow tired of them, ten to one you will not change because of the high price of fabric coverings. Wall paper will do more to change the appearance of a room than any other commodity used in the home and at the least cost. Wall paper prices are lower now than they will be in the fall, so we suggest an early purchase. DO IT NOW.

British Push On

German rear guards have been driven back on the British front north and south of Peronne and larger forces of Germans have been engaged between Athies and Nurlu and also about Meuvres and Neuville. Bourloulval. Between Givenchy and Neuve Chapelle the British have regained all the ground taken from them by the Germans last April. Farther north on the Lys front the British have pushed their line forward south and southeast of Nippe and northeast of Wulvergham. The retrograde movement of the Germans under continued pressure by the Americans who have extended their front east of the Aisne, and by the French in the same section, has been further increased up to Rheims. East of Rheims, however, the Germans apparently have decided to make a stand.

Vesle Cleared of Germans

French and Americans have now cleared the Vesle of the Germans and advanced to positions of a commanding nature with every prospect of driving them back upon the old Hindenburg line beyond the Chemin-Des-Dames. Confagration behind the German lines and reports from the allied aviators indicate that the Germans in this sector are preparing to retreat on a

BRITISH TAKE NEUVE-

CHAPPELLE AND BUSSUJ

LONDON, Sept. 6 (1 p. m.).—British troops today captured Neuve-Chappelle and Bussuj.

Advancing east of the river Somme to the south of Peronne, the British have captured the villages of St. Chris-Priest and Le Mesnil-Bruntel. Field Marshal Haig reported in his official statement today. A number of prisoners were taken by the advancing troops.

Between the Somme and Olse French troops have captured blocks of hills known as the Outrecourt massif, which is within three miles of Chanay. Field Marshal Haig's forces crossed the Canal du Nord on the whole front, except from Havincourt north to the Scarpe. The French have secured a good hold on the northern bank of the Ailette and on the terrain between that river and the Olse. They are approaching if they are not actually on the Hindenburg line on the St. Gaba massif. Southeast of Peronne the British have reached Athies and Mons-en-Chaussee. They have captured the village of Doint. On the Flanders front the British are established in portions of the old German front line east of Neuve-Chappelle and in the old British line in the Flanders sector.

The British also have advanced northwest of Armentieres.

North of Peronne British forces are in possession of the town of Bessue and are in the immediate vicinity of Templeux-La Fosse, Nurlu and Egan-court.

PARIS, Sept. 5.—French troops last night continued to push forward on the entire front between the Somme and the Vesle, says today's war office report. South of Peronne French troops made further crossings of the Somme in the region of Epaincourt. Further south the Ham-Peronne road was reached at several points.

South of Ham the towns of Leplessis, Patte, d'Oie and Berlancourt were captured and still further south the French pursuing troops pushed beyond Guivry, Caillouel-Crepigny and Abbe-court.

In the region north of the Ailette the French reached the outskirts of Sinceny and the plateau north of Landricourt and south of the Ailette, the advancing forces are along the Vauxillon ravine.

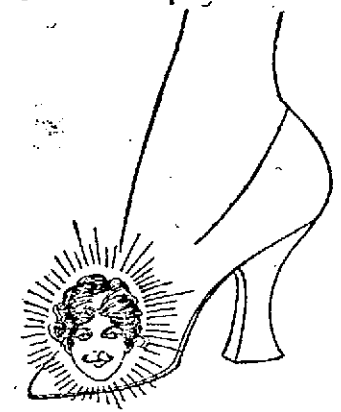

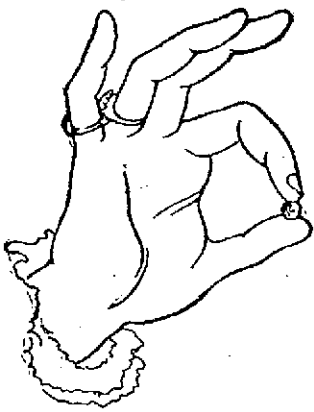

The American troops advancing from the Vesle have captured the town of Glemies, southeast of Reville and have advanced their lines as far as the outskirts of Villers-en-Prayeres, on the Aisne.

SHERMAN'S POLITICAL RANTING

U. S. Senator Sherman, republican of Illinois, has broken out again, this time in a virulent tirade against President Wilson, Secretary Baker, Secretary of Commerce Redfield, Postmaster General Burleson, Samuel Gompers, Secretary MacAdoo and Col. House. So far as we can interpret the meaning of the senator's attack, his contention is, that the administration at Washington under pretense of patriotic ardor in prosecuting the war, is simply scheming to secure permanent political control rather than the defeat of Germany.

On this assumption the senator declares to the world that Sam Gompers is president of the United States so far as labor is concerned, that MacAdoo is operating the railroads as a political machine for the perpetuation of democratic control, that Burleson for a like purpose is dictator over the transmission of intelligence, while Col. House as a personal envoy of the president has exercised unofficial and usurped powers of government.

According to this political seer, the administration at Washington with President Wilson as the prime mover "under the specious pretext of war necessity is making an effort to establish autocratic power in the land."

This charge taken in conjunction with some others of the same stamp, is almost as bad as anything said by the I. W. W. leaders recently convicted; and if treason can be uttered with impunity in the senate, the government will naturally have greater difficulty in suppressing it throughout the land.

Sherman was a member of the coterie that was snowed under when President Wilson refused to favor the republican scheme for a super-cabinet board to supervise the expenditures and the management of the war. The president met the agitation for a coalition cabinet brought forward under various disguises with the intimation that he would exercise all the powers vested in him by the constitution, and as a result, not only was the republican plan rejected, but the Overman bill was passed giving the president power to reorganize any department as he saw fit. Under that law he has already reorganized several departments. He has called to the service the best men the nation affords, many of them republicans; but he did not submit to the audacious proposition to appoint an overhead advisory body with power to restrict, obstruct and paralyze the unified direction of the war as provided for by the constitution.

That is the ill concealed graveness of the attack upon the administration by this political alarmist from Illinois.

The fact that President Wilson is reported to have planned a speaking tour in aid of the fourth Liberty loan, seems to have greatly excited the Illinois statesman who in consequence opens his batteries of bitter rancor against the administration in a manner that must give aid and comfort to the enemy and that cannot fail to prove embarrassing to the government in trying to secure the loyal support of all the people in prosecuting the war to a glorious triumph.

The success of the administration in conducting the war has already confounded its critics and now the howl is not on account of alleged delay or inefficiency as in the early stages of the preparations, but against an alleged effort to secure perpetuation of democratic control.

Not to expedite the operations of war did the administration seize the railroads, not to stop profiteering did it assume control of the supply of food and fuel, not to secure industrial peace or promote production did the government favor an increase of wages, not to overthrow the autocracy of Germany but to establish an autocracy in this land, has President Wilson been preaching democracy and world freedom—no, all these things were done, we are told, with one underlying aim and purpose which is to maintain democratic ascendancy and to perpetuate the democratic party in power.

It was for the same purpose, of course, that Director General MacAdoo recently issued an order providing that any official or employee of the railroads who takes any part in politics beyond the exercise of the franchise, would be summarily dismissed. And on the same theory of this irate senator also, it was to reserve all the emoluments of office for democratic adherents that President Wilson appointed the following with many other republicans to office:

John D. Ryan
Head of Aircraft
Charles M. Schwab
Head of U. S. Emergency Ship Corporation
William Kent
Ex-Congressman from California,
Tariff Commissioner U. S.
Victor Murdock
Ex-Congressman from Kansas, Commissioner, Federal Trade Commission

But it is wrong perhaps to expect any regard for reason or veracity from this rampant, ranting, rancorous senator. He is apparently politically insane. He sees nothing at Washington except through republican glasses of the old reactionary type dating back to the days of Mark Hanna and the plutocratic trusts. He has disgraced his party, his state and the senate of the United States in this quite as much as when he voted for the Gore resolution relinquishing our rights on the high seas.

We would advise the people of Illinois to appoint a committee of alienists to pass upon the senator's sanity, and if such body decided that he is still in his right mind, then he should be impeached for treasonable utterances against the government in time of war. But, if it be found that Sherman is really sane, it may be found also that he has political ambitions to run for the presidency in 1920. From any such calamity may the good Lord deliver us. If he should become a candidate, however, he would certainly receive every German vote in the country as a reward for his anti-American services in the senate, but that might be his limit. If he were running for re-election this fall, he would certainly get his deserts in the same fate that has overtaken Senator Vandaman of Mississippi, and that without any suggestions from President Wilson.

The bureau of industrial housing of the U. S. department of labor has found it necessary to issue a warning that the funds at the disposal of the bureau to provide for housing projects in industrial centers are limited and that while it may be necessary in some cities and towns to expand existing contracts, it will not be going from the money chest of the housing bureau.

Most of us remember that story that "broke" in Chicago last winter when Nelson Morris of the big packing family, announced in the course of testimony given before the federal trade commission in the hearing to determine if packing house workers should have more pay, that he believed a chance to go to the movies twice a year was all that the workers employed by his firm had a right to expect as entertainment. In spite of this evidence of pin head-ness, Nelson seems to have made a pretty good soldier for, after playing tag with the draft law for some time, being finally inducted into service at Camp Meigs, he studied hard enough so that he won a commission as a first lieutenant after three months in the service.

No one can argue that at present the combination put at the disposal of Marshal Foch is not the best possible. From America comes money, munitions, an enormous man power and includes soldiers unexcelled for courage and daring. America for her part, is to be congratulated that into the custody of a man of such great leadership and military genius as Marshal Foch, this treasure of war resources is entrusted.

A good deal of commendation and approval will be forthcoming to Mrs. Howard Gould of New York, an immensely rich woman, who says she will not live in Washington because of the exorbitant prices charged for food and housing. Mrs. Gould objected to paying 40 cents for one egg at breakfast and $1.40 for 12 fried oysters and so would any other person of good sense.

SEEN AND HEARD

Those new $1 bills are pretty to look at, but they don't get anywhere with today's prices.

The war certainly has put a damper on the usual interest in the world's series.

An exchange has a story about a fellow picking canned blueberries. Always supposed you had to pick 'em and then can 'em.

A tailless cat attracted the attention of a tailless dog in John street the other day and as nothing remarkable happened this will have to be set down as a tailless tale.

Mayer Hurley of Lawrence was in town Wednesday evening, renewing old acquaintances and the down-river town's genial chief executive has many friends in Lowell. He is an interesting talker and a mixer of the first water.

The fellow who took his girl out to ride behind the old gray mare last Sunday was cock of the walk and it looks as if he would have ample opportunity to repeat the wonderful experience of having the road all to himself on the Sabbath with no automobiles to bother him.

The man who enjoys the spirited life of conductor on the Fletcher street car, Mr. Toohy, has returned from the lively environments of Old Orchard beach and he says he is in the pink of condition and ready for the big business that he expects on the Fletcher street line this winter.

Footling the Hun

A Yank in a German war prison made a nice use of words in telling what he thought about German treatment of prisoners. He did it this way: "We are treated well. The Germans are kind to us. They provide us with the best of everything. There is only one thing we prisoners here could wish for, and that is to be at 'Green-lawn'."

That got by the sharp eye of the Hun censor, who didn't know that "Green-lawn" was the cemetery in the Yank's home town.

Large Enough

Ex-President Taft, in his younger days, when he was a law reporter, had been studying a case in Somerville, O., and found he couldn't get back to the office that night unless he managed to stop a through express. So he wired to headquarters, "Will you stop the through express at Somerville to take on a large party?"

The answer came back, "Yes." The express was duly stopped at Somerville. The young law reporter got aboard with his copy, and the conductor said, "Where's that large party I was to take on?"

"I was to take on,"

"That's all,"—Christian Register.

Mothers of Warriors

(Copyright, 1918, N.E.A.) "Mothers of warriors, but not of war! We who have given life to men, abhor the dreadful need of bayonets and guns to slaughter other women's sons."

But we are mothers not alone of youth. But mothers of Humanity and Truth. Who shall preserve the by-laws of the race. If we should shrink our self-elected place.

We who have given renewal to the Out of the passions and the pains of birth. We who have suffered that the race may live. We who have most to love have most to give.

And we have given All, giving that part Which Resides from the warm core of our own hearts. Forgetting our own good for good of all. We send our sons to war to stand—or fall.

Happily the lips of every dear son slain Shall surely cry against this curse of Cain. And Victory our sons do battle for Shall make War Mothers victors over war.

—EDMUND YANCE COOKE.

When a Shell Passes

A British aviator who had been flying in France since the beginning of the war told the story of meeting a shell from a German 17-inch gun while he was in the air:

I was at an altitude of about 6000 feet one day, and climbing higher at an easy angle, when one of those big fellows came plunging along in the opposite direction. First, a dark little blur appeared above me at an angle of about 45 degrees above me. At first, it seemed to be coming right at me, and I swerved to the left in an instinctive effort to dodge the threatened blow. Then a sort of drowning hum became audible, and that sound increased during the two or three seconds that elapsed before the big missile came up to me and swooped past. It was probably several hundred yards away at its nearest, but the distance seemed less.

A few faint stirrings of air began to rock my machine even before the shell went by, but the full force of the "air wash" came a fraction of a second later. Then an almost solid wall of air nearly threw me on my beam ends, and I was really hard put to it to get the reeling machine back on an even keel. For the next mile or two the air was like water in the wake of a big slide-wheller—ill chopped to pieces—and the machine rocked like a spring-less motor lorry going over cobbles. The air was disturbed for some seconds after a loud roar astern had told me the shell had come to earth.—Popular Mechanics.

A Pleasant Time Had By All

You've ridden in a Streetcar in Lowell, haven't you? For one of these Motorcars you start. And stop the car though they're trying to separate the car from its wheels? Well, we found out. One the other night. Packed to the gills. (We mean the car.) And at every stop, and start, the motorcar would slam on the brakes, and turn on the siren. So it would bump Everybody loose from their rubber heels. But we were all rewarded after a bit. And we enjoyed the ride. At one stop, just as the Motorcar let his grouch come to a head, he let Got the hell, he let. The motorcar let it full tilt, and the car shot. Out from under his stool. And planted him on the floor. Hilarious!

Married the Cook

In a state bordering on the Atlantic coast is a town which had an important part in the history of the war of the American Revolution. Therefore the members of the "old families" hold their heads high and consider themselves among the elect.

Into the home of one of these "first families" came Bridget Carroll to serve as cook. Bridget was wholesome appearing and light-hearted, so it was natural she should attract more attention than is usually paid to a servant in the house, and she was particularly noticed by the only son, who began to try surreptitiously to engage her in conversation now and then. She paid no attention to him and it began to pique him. One morning he sprang out from a place of concealment and caught her in his arms and kissed her several times. The wife with anger, Bridget administered such a slap as the young man had never before experienced. She was sure she would be dismissed for this but days passed without any evidence that any one knew of the incident beyond the two persons concerned. After a while he met her and tried humbly to apologize, but she would have nothing to do with him. He tried again and again to win her attention without success, then at last he went to his mother and told her he was hopelessly in love with their cook. The cook was summarily dismissed and the young man sent away. Bridget secured another position and the young man wandered abroad for a long time. But wherever he went the flattering attentions from young women of his own station in life only wearied him and made him miss Bridget all the more. He returned home and tried in vain to call on her. Finally he wrote her a proposal of marriage. She replied that she did not believe in unequal marriages and knew that all through the future years she would be reminded of her humble origin by his family and friends, and for the sake of her future happiness she would not consider him. The man showed this letter to his father and mother, who were greatly relieved. The father was fool enough to go and offer the girl money if she would promise to persist in refusing his son. Bridget answered him with such cutting sarcasm that he went away feeling like a member of one of the last families. The young man had never been strong and now he brooded over the only thing in which he had ever been crossed in his life. The family physician warned his parents that he would develop tuberculosis if he continued to worry. In vain did they plead with him. He declared as did not want to live unless he could have Bridget. The final result of it all was that the old father had to go and plead with his former cook to marry his son. It happened that she really had come to care for him after all his persistence, so she appeared before both parents and asked them first to give their promise that she never would suffer insults or humiliations through being reminded in word or deed of her former inferior position. This promise was never broken. After her marriage Bridget made every effort to improve herself in every way and she became one of the most popular of society matrons. Last summer her oldest daughter was one of the prettiest belles at one of the eastern resorts and her handsome young son is in a fair way to succeed to the banking business, as his grandfather and father have done.—Chicago Tribune.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

The restaurant at the Y.M.C.A. started in business again for the winter season, yesterday, and I notice that one Jack Tallaferr (pronounced as if it were spelled "Tolliver," by the way), is to be its manager and I assume, responsible for the quality of the grub. The Y.M.C.A. restaurant ought to have a very good patronage this fall if it will serve food of such excellent quality as to attract the patronage of the scores of young men who live in the Y.M.C.A. dormitory. It is announced that the association restaurant is to make a specialty of a 40 cent lunch at noon. I intend to drop in there in a few days and try this 40 cent lunch and if it fails to come up to my reasonable expectations or should be skimpy and the food of poor quality, the Spinax will have nothing on me in respect to my mentioning that restaurant in this column afterward. However, I'm no killjoy. I hope and expect good results.

My congratulations to Lionel Desroches, 18 years old, manly little son of Mr. and Mrs. Francois Desroches, 443 Moody street. Lionel jumped into the Pawtucket canal Tuesday afternoon and saved the life of a 3-year-old boy named Louis Rondeau who would have drowned otherwise. Our fighters over in France have just such nerve and daring as Lionel Desroches showed Tuesday afternoon and if the Carnegie society is in a position to reward and encourage such heroism as Lionel's. I hope it will. In connection with this too, I do not want to forget to give my congratulations to Patrolman Frachette whom I understand finished the job of saving the little life. The Rondeau boy was unconscious when taken out of the water, but Frachette worked a long time over the lad until he breathed again. We have to admire that kind of a cop. There used to be a time when all a cop had to know was how to set a drunk to the station, but now a police officer must know many other things, none of which is more important than the art of saving victims of water, gas and poison, known as first aid treatment.

A reader "phoned me yesterday to the effect that I was not specific enough when I commended the manager of the Strand theatre in Haverhill for his efforts in collecting peach stones for the government to be made into mask charcoal. It seems that the manager of the Strand theatre is a former Lowell boy, Clyde Dupras, who has managed playhouses in this city and is very well known here. Some managers of motion picture houses can usually be found among the leaders of every good movement in the community and they say Dupras is that sort.

One of the good Lowell women who has devoted a great deal of her time and efforts to collecting books and magazines for the soldiers in cantonments tells me that any person bringing up a bundle of magazines to send to the soldiers, should not by any means pull out and discard either the so-called women's magazines or fashion magazines. I mean, periodicals, for instance, that contain nothing but pictures and text pertaining to women's styles.

"What in the world do soldiers want with magazines that treat of nothing but styles for women?" I asked this woman.

"It is explained like this," she answered, "it has been found particularly in the camps where drafted men are in training, that perhaps there are a number of men who, in civilian life, were employed in stores selling women's merchandise or were perhaps tailors to women, or furriers and designers of women's clothing. These men although withdrawn from their regular employment, naturally have an interest in the business in which they formerly earned a living. They are interested to get hold of fashion magazines and watch the changes of styles and compare the new with those with which they were familiar.

I don't believe there is any drug store window in town that is receiving more attention and attracting a larger crowd in the evening than one of the windows of the A. W. Dows store, corner of Merrimack and Bridge streets. The reason is an excellent war map spread out in the window. This map shows the western front. Unfortunately it is not large enough to show the part of Germany where Berlin is located but I have no doubt that when the American boys are fighting on German territory Mr. Dows will after this condition so that

Berlin's location can be seen. The center of interest in this war map in Druggist Dows' window, is the part of the map which shows, by means of a red crayon line, the farthest invasion of the Germans into France. A little distance from this is another line, made by pinning a black woolen yarn string to the map. This day by day, marks the advance of the allies under Foch. The work and responsibility of shifting this black string so as to correctly indicate the advance, I am told, is in the hands of Mr. Dows' son, Mr. Amos Dows, a Boston engineer, who every night corrects the black line according to what the cables report of the battle which has now been in progress six weeks.

Of course I don't indict all the fine soldier boys at Camp Devens for the lack of soldierly conduct shown by two privates while the big parade of Labor day was passing, but I do feel called upon to tell about them. With their clothing, hats and shoes looking anything but as smart and trim as a soldier on leave is supposed to have them look, these two worthies loiled up against a trolley pole on Merrimack street and lazily watched the parade. Every time our flag was carried past this point, most of the men in civilian clothes took pains to uncover their heads in salute to the colors. Not so the two soldiers being held up by the trolley pole. Instead of at once standing sharply at salute with fingers to the brim of their hats, this pair, one smoking a pipe and the other a cigaret, made no move and continued to get a lot of alleged fun for themselves by ridiculing the marchers.

U. S. STEAMER SUNK

The Lake Owens Victim of German Submarine—Five of Crew Reported Lost

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—The navy department was informed today that the American steamer Lake Owens had been sunk by a submarine. Five members of the civilian crew were reported lost.

The steamer, an army cargo carrier of 2303 tons, was sent down by gunfire in foreign waters Sept. 3. All members of the naval guard were saved and only one, Chief Boatswain's mate, H. W. Lincoln, is reported slightly injured.

their gardens to be canned and preserved. Mrs. Irene Burnham, the state leader in canning, was assisting and giving helpful suggestions and, speaking to a representative of The Sun, she said: "There has been a great deal accomplished since my last visit. The canning and preserving should continue right through the month of October, and as the winter comes on and folks find they are unable to keep some of their vegetables from spoiling, many will decide to put them through the drying process. I see no reason why Lowell's work should not take a high place at the exhibition which is to be held the last week in October at Jordan Marsh company's exhibition hall. They are planning this on a large scale and it will be open to all New England, prizes will be distributed, and banners are to be given out to community centers having the largest amount of perfect work."

Mrs. Graves, the manager at the kitchen, states that a bushel of peach stones was sent from Lowell yesterday to the Jordan Marsh company of Boston, where they are being collected for government use, in making gas masks. Tomatoes, and still more tomatoes, are being put into the sterilizing tanks at the canning kitchen. There is a great deal of work to be done just at present and volunteers are needed;

EVERYBODY WALKS IN OCTOBER 12th PARADE

Through an error it was stated in last evening's paper that some of those participating in the big Columbus day parade here would be mounted when as a matter of fact the reverse is the case. Dr. McCluskey, the chief marshal of the parade, believes that the idea of everybody walking is a popular one and desires to impress this upon intending marchers. When, too, he says the fashion in all parades of recent years has been to do away with the prancing steeds.

TO FORCE HUNS BEYOND
CHEMIN DES DAMES

LONDON, Sept. 6.—The French and American advance on a 50 mile front in the Alsine region with the recovery of a great extent of territory as well as important enemy positions was the feature of the battle news up to this morning. The severe character of the fighting along the southern end of the 150 mile line on which the Germans are retreating hardly has been realized here, being temporarily overshadowed by the sensational events farther north.

The French and Americans had to overcome the desperate and tenacious resistance of some of the best German troops.

There is now a confident expectation that further progress will be made and it is believed here that the enemy will be compelled to retreat even beyond the Chemin des Dames. Further developments are awaited with great interest.

MOHAIR TOO COSTLY FOR GOVERNMENT USE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Mohair has been found too costly for government use and the war industries board today released fall clips which recently were ordered held pending an agreement on prices. Wool will be substituted in making aviators' coats and other articles in which mohair heretofore has been used.

HUN RETREAT CONTINUES

Destroy Bridges and Flood Country Between Chauny and La Fere as They Flee

(By the Associated Press)

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN THE FIELD, Thursday, Sept. 5.—The Germans tonight are destroying bridges and flooding the country between Chauny and La Fere, which is a good indication that they do not expect to remain much longer in advance of their old line which ran from La Fere to Barisis. Today their retreat continued in daylight east of the Allotte river, and their columns suffered very heavy losses from shell fire. Between the Allotte and the Aisne, French troops advanced to the line from Margival to Quincy and Chivres, while to the north they occupied Coucy-le-Chateau and Coucy-le-Village, approaching their old line of 1917, around the edge of the hilly wood region of St. Gobain. There they will encounter the formidable defense works the Germans prepared as part of the old Hindenburg position and which perhaps have been further strengthened since beginning their retreat.

LEADING WORLD IN SHIP PRODUCTION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—America now is leading the world in ship production. Comparison of figures on deliveries announced by the shipping board with official figures on the output of yards in the United Kingdom show that plants in this country have delivered 1,634,403 dead weight tons since January 1, while British yards have turned out 1,548,324 tons.

American yards began to take the lead over those in the United Kingdom two months ago. In August, however, yards in the United States increased their lead, delivering 323,650 dead weight tons compared with 137,000 dead weight tons for the United Kingdom.

R.R. CONTRACT MADE PUBLIC BY M'ADOO

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Terms of the standard contract between the government and railroads, made public yesterday by Director General McAdoo, after months of negotiations with company representatives, show that most contentions of the association of railway security holders have been denied.

These included the claim that railroad companies should be given the right to litigate in court after the war for losses on account of diversion of business and to appeal to courts from decisions of the Interstate Commerce commission, acting as referee in disputes over administrative questions.

The contract now will be offered to all roads under federal control, and it is believed most leading roads will sign it.

The director general expressed the opinion that if railroads had been under private control during the first four months this year, they would have lost $136,116,000 in operating income, as compared with the corresponding period of the preceding year. This condition, together with wage increases and the difficulty of borrowing money, said Mr. McAdoo, "would probably have resulted in the failure of some of the most important railroad companies in the country to meet their obligations under private management."

The fact that railroads are now guaranteed a fixed net income under federal management and are able to borrow from the government for necessary improvements, the director general said, "are fundamental things which impress the great body of railroad investors and should make them satisfied with the status as it now exists."

Mr. McAdoo characterized most objections of representatives of the association of railway security holders to the contract as "unreasonable" and said he did not believe they represented views of railroad companies or security owners generally.

The objection to the provision requiring a company to pay out of its compensation expenses necessary to bring run-down property up to a condition of safe operation and should not be used to pay its debt to the government until after customary dividends have been paid was overruled.

The director general agreed to strike out the section requiring a railway to turn over to the government one month's supply of working capital without interest.

Claim that the government should pay corporate expenses of railway companies was denied.

ALL IN READINESS FOR REGISTRATION

All is in readiness for the registration of men between 15 and 45 years of age, which will take place next Thursday, Sept. 12, but the exemption boards of the city would like to have about 60 more volunteers to assist in the registration. Already 190 have offered their services, but that is not sufficient and volunteers may report to James J. Gallagher, chairman of the local exemption boards.

The registration will take place in the polling booths and registrants are informed that they may register at the booth nearest to their homes. All men who have reached their 18th birthday and not their 46th birthday are obliged to register. Among the registrants on Sept. 12 will be three city fathers, Mayor Perry D. Thompson and Commissioners James E. Donnelly and George H. Brown, but owing to the fact that they hold elective offices, they will automatically be exempted from service as long as they remain in office.

PART PLAYED BY THE PROTEST TO GERMANY

AMERICAN AIRMEN

SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE, Sept. 6.—Twelve pilots stood in a semi-circle around a desk on which was spread a large map.

"The push starts tomorrow," said the colonel. "We have allotted to us this zone. It is our job to wreck stations, trains and bridges in there." The pilots saluted and fled out. By 9 o'clock the next morning two trains had been derailed, one ammunition train was on fire and still exploding, and two railway stations lay in ruins. The infantry, thanks, in part, to the work of the airmen in hampering the movements of the German reserves, had advanced a mile on a ten-mile front.

The official aviation report for the day said: "One of our machines is missing; two German machines were destroyed."

Dutch Minister to Berlin Objects to Sinking of Vessels Within Barred Zone

THE HAGUE, Sept. 6.—The Dutch minister at Berlin has been instructed to protest against the destruction by German submarines of vessels within what is designated as the barred zone, and against the sinking of seven Dutch fishing vessels on Aug. 24.

The minister also has instructions to protest against the fact that the skippers of the fishing vessels were forced to sign a declaration, the contents of which were unknown to them. He also will make a request for the goods taken from the fishing vessels.

RETAIN PRESENT SUGAR RATION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Retention of the present sugar ration of two pounds a month for each person was announced by the food administration today at the conclusion of a two-day conference attended by administrators from most of the states called by Food Administrator Hoover.

SOME GASOLINE SELLERS ARE PROFITEERING

(Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, Sept. 6.—Tests made by the state department of standards indicate that all over Massachusetts, with the single exception of the vicinity of Camp Devens, automobilists are getting full measure when they pull up beside a gasoline pump and purchase any specified number of gallons of the liquid energy.

In the vicinity of Ayer, however, profiteering has been rampant. In one instance it was found that a purchase of five gallons of gasoline yielded the buyer only four gallons and three quarts, and of the 16 pumps tested by the department nine were found to be inaccurate.

In Worcester the inspectors found 100 per cent. of accuracy; 22 stations were tested and in every instance it was found that the specified amount of gasoline was obtained.

One garage was discovered in Holden which during the past two years has pumped out 173,000 gallons, which was found to be exactly the amount the dealer had purchased from the supply company.

LAFAYETTE DAY

State Honors Memory of Famous Frenchman—Big Observance in Boston

BOSTON, Sept. 6.—Lafayette day and the anniversary of the first battle of the Marne was generally observed throughout Massachusetts today in accordance with a proclamation issued by Governor McCall. Memorial services were held in many of the cities and school children conducted exercises honoring the famous Frenchman.

The main observance in this city will take place tonight with a mass meeting in Faneuil hall. Former Governor John L. Bates will preside and messages are expected to be read from Premiers Clemenceau and Lloyd George, President Poincaré, Marshals Foch, Joffre and Haig and General Pershing. The principal address will be delivered by Judge Charles A. DeCourcy of the Massachusetts supreme court. During the day there were exercises at the Cathedral of St. Paul, on Boston common and at the naval service club.

CITY EMPLOYEES AS HUN FIGHTERS

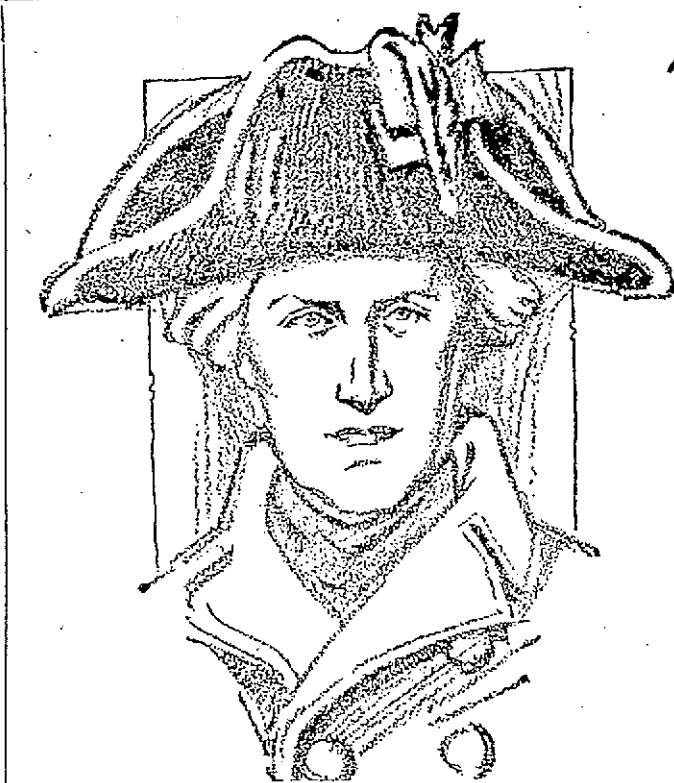

According to a letter received by City Clerk Stephen Flynn from the city clerk of New Bedford, the exemption boards of that city are drafting city employees whether or not they have dependents, simply because the city is paying them the difference in the wages they receive from the war authorities and the wages they were receiving from the city while their names were on the payroll. The letter follows:

New Bedford, Sept. 3, 1918.

City Clerk, Lowell Mass: Will you kindly inform me if your city has taken any action whereby the difference between the city remuneration and government pay is made up to city employees who are serving in the United States army or navy and if so what the action was. In 1917, New Bedford city council adopted an order providing for such action and the same has worked well up to this time. We now find that men in the city's employ are being taken even though they have dependents, on the theory that the dependents will not suffer during the absence of the bread winner, since the city will receive the same money as when he is at home.

WHEN LAFAYETTE WORE THE UNIFORM OF AN AMERICAN OFFICER

CALL OF LAFAYETTE

Memory of Great French Patriot and Friend of United States Honored Today

Months ago an American songwriter sang: "Lafayette, we hear you calling!" Since then we have heard that song again and again. It rings in our ears every time we see the tri-color of La Belle France and hear the tramp, tramp, tramp of our boys marching away to Camp Devens.

America has heard the call of Lafayette.

We heard his call as the Huns battered and pounded their way to the heart of France. We heard his call when French homes were destroyed, churches burned, women wronged, babies butchered, when all France lay bleeding and starving, when the Hun was but a step from final and crushing victory over the bravest of peoples.

The voice that came out of the rear of bursting shell, not to be hushed by American pacifist nor German propaganda, came clear and strong to our ears. It touched our hearts and strengthened our souls. It was answered.

America went to war.

The whole great force of American resources, men, money, ships, fields, homes, went into the war.

It wasn't long thereafter before a little group stood before the statue of Lafayette in Paris. There were President Poincaré of France, General Foch, French warrior, and General Pershing, American hero, to whom was entrusted America's answer to Lafayette. Then it was that General Pershing thrilled the hearts of the French people and army with these words: "Lafayette, we've come."

That was all. But it was enough. We had answered the call, and today we still are answering. We are answering in soldiers, munitions, food, clothing, medicines, ships, with everything we have that is needed "over there."

Exactly ten months ago today America answered in lives, for on that day three American soldiers made the supreme sacrifice in battle with the Huns in France. And more have followed in their footprints to fame's eternal camping ground.

That is the way we have answered your call, Lafayette!

Why should we have answered that call?

American colonists long years ago were fighting against Hunnish despotism of a German ruler on a British throne. They, too, were bleeding, hungry, despondent. They, too, looked across the ocean and prayed for succor. They called to France. A young Frenchman, wealthy, titled, the orphaned son of a soldier of France, heard our call—and answered it.

Mario Jean Paul Rich Yves Gilbert Motier, Marquis de Lafayette, was that young man. He had just married, but that call of a people fighting for freedom against oppression outweighed all else. He came.

Arriving at the ebb tide of American hopes, Lafayette was more than an army, greater than shiploads of munitions, an inspiration, a promise, a friend in need.

Let us turn back the pages of history and read again.

Lafayette was wounded in the battle of Brandywine while rallying American troops. He fought brilliantly under Lee at Monmouth and commanded with Sullivan and Greene the land expedition dispatched to co-operate with the French fleet in an attack on Newport. He fought against the traitor Benedict Arnold in Virginia, and ran Cornwallis to cover in Yorktown.

Four years of his life Lafayette gave to this country. He went hungry for our freedom. He bled for us. He bravely stood before the fire of enemy guns for our sake.

That is why his spirit had the right to call for our help in this, his country's hour of greatest need. That is why we heard his voice beyond the roll of battle, and why we so sincerely and whole-heartedly answered his call.

Today is the anniversary of Lafayette's birth.

Gordon H. Sharpe Given Chance

Next in interest to Lowell people, of the cases considered by the grand jury, was that of Gordon H. Sharpe, a youth whose home is in New Brunswick.

The grand jury indicted him for stealing an automobile from his former employer, John L. Robinson, Aug. 21. A somewhat unusual disposition was made of his case in that he was allowed to be released in temporary custody of the probation officer on condition that he at once accomplish what he told Judge Dubuque he wanted to do, return to New Brunswick and join the Canadian army, in which already two of his brothers are serving with honor.

This disposition of Sharpe's case was made after there had been a conference between Dist. Atty. Nathan H. Tutts and Robinson from whom Sharpe stole the auto. The district attorney stated the proposition to the judge for final decision. As has been stated, the judge consented to Sharpe putting his record behind him and seeking a new record on the field of honor.

Durant Indicted for Jailbreaking

An indictment for attempting to break jail was returned against Harold Durant of Lowell who on June 14 tried to escape from East Cambridge jail.

Durant is the youth who has given Durant is the youth who has given the law a great deal of trouble already and apparently may cause more trouble in the future. He is the chap who, when sentenced to the Concord reformatory, succeeded in getting hold of some weapons by which he for a short time terrorized the inmates of the reformatory in a fashion somewhat after the western bad man style.

Believing the reformatory was not strong enough for him, county officials had him removed to East Cambridge jail to complete his six-year sentence. He succeeded in making a varied assortment of weapons out of bits of material he found while in East Cambridge jail and also tools with which he sawed bars of the window of his cell. He squeezed his body half way through the sawed off bars of the window on the night of June 14 last, when a patrolman on duty in East Cambridge caught him in his jail-breaking attempt and frustrated it. It is believed that this attempt of Durant's, together with his previous bad record, will have the effect of adding years to the terms for which he was serving time at East Cambridge.

Alleged Firebug Indicted

The grand jury indicted Antonios Demetarakas of Lowell, who it is alleged on June 9 attempted to set fire to a building owned in Lowell by the following persons: Helen M. Harold L. and Paul E. Chalfoux; Helen C. Stevens, Alice Ellsworth and Eliza M. Chapin. Demetarakas has previously pleaded not guilty.

The grand jury indicted Alfred Daniel and Louis Trifault for alleged breaking and entering in the nighttime the shop of Joseph Suprenant and the alleged theft of two coats and two pairs of trousers. They had previously pleaded guilty.

Elmer Freeman was indicted for breaking and entering in the nighttime the store of H. Lewis Farmer of Tewksbury. He had pleaded not guilty. Theodosios Simopoulos was indicted for carnal abuse of a female child. The indictments as thus returned constitute the result of the September session of the grand jury in cases of interest to Lowell and vicinity.

SENT REGISTRATION CARDS

Although registration day has been set for next Thursday, three Lowell men, who are out of town, have already registered. They sent their registration cards to Mayor Thompson.

The men are John Joseph Lyons, of 114 Crawford street, whose card was sent from New York, and who is now on his way to Richmond, Va.; George Robert Fairbrother, of 131 Jewett street, who is at York Harbor, Me. and Heland Joseph Green, of 359 Walker street, who is at Camp Cunningham in Maine.

SAVING OF COAL

By Consolidation of Electric Power Stations

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Reports of considerable saving of coal by consolidation of electric power stations in several cities reached the fuel administration today. The merger of such plants at Richmond, Va., Ludlow, W. Va., Charleston, W. Va., Kirkwood, Mo., and Clinton, Ind., will mean a saving of 35,000 tons of coal annually, according to the administration's estimate.

PARIS, Sept. 6, 12.30 p. m.—General
Humbert's army is making steady progress today in the region of Guis-
card and Ham. Advances from the battle front say that the town of Ham has virtually been taken by the French
forces.

PARIS, Sept. 6, 3.35 p. m.—General

Missing and Wounded

Mrs. Frank L. Walsh, of 62 Lundberg street, this city, has received
official notice of the death of her brother, Lieutenant Robert Moore, with a Canadian regiment "over there." Lieut. Moore was wounded August 16 and died August 28. He was 21 years old, but he had been in the
big fight four years, having enlisted at
the age of 17. Besides his sister, Mrs.
Walsh, Lieut. Moore had two aunts in this city, Miss Edith and Miss Ethel Moore, of 1111 Middlesex street. He was born in Woodstock, N. B., and made his home there.

MISSING AND WOUNDED

According to information received here one Lowell man is missing and
two others have been seriously
wounded in France. The missing man
is Private Henry L. Beauchamp, son of
Mr. and Mrs. Albert Beauchamp, of 2
Endicott street, who in his last letter
stated that he was recuperating from
injuries in the head and left shoulder
bladed. He has been reported missing
since June 8.

The wounded are Privates William H. Merrill and James Higgins. The former was severely wounded July 20,
according to word received by Mrs. F. G.
Bradley, of 7 Cheney place, nearest of kin. Private Higgins is a member of the 72d Canadian battalion. He is the son of Mrs. Mary Higgins of 371 Lakewood avenue and has a wife and three children in this city.

WELL-KNOWN CARPENTER OF U. S. CARTRIDGE SHOP

Mr. Buck is a man of pleasant personality, who numbers his friends by the score. He lives at 188 South street, this city.

Mr. Buck says: "I have nothing but praise for Vitalitas and don't think there is anything its equal. My case being a run-down condition and lost weight. I have taken three bottles of Vitalitas and not only have I gained six pounds but my whole system feels much better. To my friends and the people of Lowell I say, give the Vitalitas treatment a trial and you will not regret it, for it does the work."

When statements of this kind come from people so well known as Mr.
Buck, whose word is his bond, his statement should go a long way towards convincing the most skeptical as to the merit of Vitalitas.
Vitalitas is for rheumatism, nervousness, indigestion, kidney and liver ills. Also to build up run-down people and those with poor blood. The remedy free from alcohol or dangerous drugs. Get it today at Dows's

John D. Wilson Implicated in Planting Bomb in Chi- cago Federal Building

I.W.W. Member, at One Time
Secretary to Haywood,
Now Under Arrest

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—In a statement
today, Michael F. Sullivan, assistant states' attorney, declared that John D.
Wilson, arrested last night, has been
positively identified as having been implicated in planting the bomb in the Chicago Federal building. Explosion
of the bomb killed four persons and
resulted in serious injury to a score of others. Wilson is a member of the
I.W.W. and is believed at one time to have been secretary to William D. Hay-
wood, general secretary-treasurer.

In his announcement, Mr. Sullivan
said Wilson had been identified by four persons as the man seen running away
from the entrance to the federal building shortly before the bomb exploded.
He was described as "the man with a
black fedora hat, who ran from the building, leaped into a black automobile and was whirled away."

Detectives who questioned Wilson
he admitted he was employed as a bookkeeper by the I.W.W., and that he spent the greater part of Wednesday
in the federal building, whether he
fer of Haywood to the office of the federal prosecutor so that Haywood
might attend to some private business airing. He denied any connection with the explosion.

MORE ABOUT OUR ARMY AND NAVY DAY

The following proclamation, signed by Gov. McCall, Harry D. Thompson, chairman of the army and navy day celebration to be held here Sept. 21, has been issued and addressed to persons in Lowell and vicinity owning automobiles and willing to donate the use of them for a patriotic cause, on the day the celebration is held:

The city of Lowell will be host to the army and navy on Sept. 21st, 1918.
This will be the first time in history that men in the service and their officers will be official guests of this city.
It is desirable that the city's hospitality be equal in every particular to the most traditions of the community. To this end the city will be brought in machines furnished by that city. They will join the army which is coming from Camp Devens in machines that should be furnished by the citizens of Lowell and vicinity. It is hoped that the machine owners of this city will co-operate in the fullest manner with our government, for as many machines as can possibly be secured are necessary in order to provide hospitality to the men who are giving so much to defend our democracy and justice among nations.

Enclosed for your convenience is a card already addressed and stamped for mailing.

Lowell War Camp Community service,
for war and navy department commissions in training camp activities.

SAMUEL W. McCALL, Honorary Chairman.

PERRY D. THOMPSON, Honorary
Vice Chairman.

OTTO HOCKMEYER, Chairman.

The proclamation of itself largely tells the story and states what is largely
ed. Today 50 cards have been sent to that number of auto owners in this community asking them to co-operate in making the army and navy day a success. The committee expects an owner who will give the use of his car on the day in question, driving it himself or supplying a driver, will fill out the card sent him and mail it back to the headquarters of the Lowell War Camp Community service organization at room 509 Sun building.

Any other persons who have not received cards, an omission not purposely intended, who will loan the use of his car, should phone to Harry Pitts whose telephone number is 3530 and notify him that there is a car available at his address. Hutchins Parker is also associated with Mr. Pitts in this work of securing cars to bring the soldiers from Camp Devens. The headquarters of the war camp community service in the Sun building, the telephone number of which is 5007, can also be communicated with on the phone to give notification of this sort.

The committee on the program for the entertainment of the soldiers and sailors is busy at the present time and in addition to the attraction for this program already announced today, Secretary Pouzner said that Mr.
and Mrs. George Lincoln Adams would give an exhibition dance at the armory during the grand social ball to be given for the soldiers and sailors and in addition three pupils of Mrs. Adams' school of dancing in this city will give fancy costume dances. The Adamses come from Salem here and have danced in public as professional dancers in New York, Boston and Newport.

Thursday evening Secretary Pouz-ner was invited to address the members of the Martin Luther club on the general scope of the war camp community service. He called attention to the first effort of the Lowell association, this forthcoming soldiers and sailors' celebration Sept. 21, and he was promised the fullest co-operation in making this day a success by the members of the Martin Luther club.

Allies Smash Ahead On 150 Mile Front--Fall of Lille, Ham and St. Gobain Near

Enemy Still Fleeing Before French, British and Americans
All Along Front--Chauny Seriously Threatened--
Americans Move Up Along Aisne Line--Chemin-des-
Dames Line Virtually Outflanked--Big Allied Gains

(By the Associated Press)
Continuing their pressure along the front from Rheims to Ypres, the allied forces are pushing back the Germans
on virtually this entire 150-mile line.

Close in on St. Gobain Telling progress has been made in particular by the French and Americans
along the southern part of the front. The French are before the old Hindenburg positions along a considerable stretch in this sector, where
they are closing in upon the bastion
of St. Gobain, the keystone of the German defensive system in the west.

Allies Take Town After Town
Further north the enemy armies are still in retreat before the French and British, who are capturing town after
town as they make rapid strides towards the line from which the Germans attacked in their offensive of last March. Ham is almost within
the allied grasp and Chauny is seriously threatened.

Americans Hurl Germans Back
The Americans have moved up along
the Aisne line reaching the ground immediately south of the river. The Germans north of the stream appear
inclined to halt temporarily but there seems to be no question but they will soon be forced to resume their

backward march and not halt it again
until their old line at the Chemin-des-
Dames is reached.

Chemin-des-Dames Line Outflanked
Through the continued French progress on the German right flank north
of the Aisne, however, the Chemin-des-
Dames line seems virtually outflanked
and the retirement may not stop short
of the Ailette.

Drive on Cambrai Halted
The campaign for Cambrai has halted
as far as the push on the direct
line for the city is concerned, but the
advances which the Anglo-French
forces are making southward along
the line are calculated to work notably toward the success of the main drive. The Somme and the Canal du Nord water barriers have been passed
in this sector, and the German stand
back of the canal in the north may be
rendered futile as the enemy flank
on the canal at Havincourt is menaced
by the drive farther south.

French Cross Aisne
The French forces of General Man-
gins' army have crossed the Aisne northeast of Soissons, captured Coucy-
Le-Chateau. To the north General
Humbert's French army has crossed
the Somme canal and advanced from
two to four miles in a flanking movement on Ham, the fall of which is imminent. From Ham the Germans are believed to be utilizing the main roads
to St. Quentin and Lafore with the ob-

British Rush on in Flanders
On the Flanders front, the British pressure seems likely to drive the Germans farther than they apparently
had intended going in their retirement. Field Marshal Haig's troops are pressing in upon Arras and both
from the north and south, and their

thereof is not yet known. There is now some sweater yarn and it is suggested that our local knitters take out enough of this to keep the local quota for foreign service provided.

The Red Cross local headquarters has been in communication with division headquarters concerning what is to be done about continuing the surgical dressings production. It now appears that North Middlesex chapter will be asked to supply about one-quarter as many surgical dressings as was the former quota. At the same time the chapter is warned that it must be prepared for an emergency order that will throw the quota back to its former size. There is a distinct lump in the surgical dressings demands from France for the wonderful work done by the women all over this country has produced a huge accumulation of these materials.

In place of surgical dressings work for the time being, North Middlesex chapter is notified that it will shortly receive a tremendous order for rehabilitation of uniforms from Camp Devens.
Just what this will mean is not yet made plain except that there will be patching, mending and reworking of existing uniforms in great numbers.
Further details of this will be made public in due season. In the meantime the refugee garment work has attained unusual importance and there is ample opportunity to do good work with this department. It is not improbable that the Red Cross will establish at its local headquarters a large sewing machine room, much larger than the present equipment.

From now on it is intended to have the workrooms open each day in the week with the usual half day on Saturday.

The above items concerning Red Cross work come direct from the chapter headquarters and all interested in Red Cross work are asked to take note of the details.

Allan Gail Steingardt May Be Tried Here—Court Will Convene Monday

The grand jury of Middlesex county, sitting at East Cambridge court house today indicted Allan Gail Steingardt, a former lieutenant in the United States army, for polygamy. Steingardt on June 15 was married in Low-

the same time having a wife from whom he had not been divorced, living in Baltimore. Steingardt was on duty at Camp Devens. When arraigned at the preliminary hearing here he pleaded not guilty.

WORLD'S SERIES

Second Game of the Big Baseball Classic at Chicago Today

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—With the Red Sox one game in the lead in the world's series, Manager Mitchell of the Cubs and his players themselves were confident that the American league tit-holders would not be able to repeat this afternoon.

Tyler, for the Cubs, and Bush for the Red Sox were picked to start in today's clash.

The batting order was as follows:
BOSTON CHICAGO
Hooper, 1b. 1. Black
Shen, 2b. 2. Hollocher Strunk, 3b. 3. Mann
Whitman, 4b. 4. Paskett
McMullen, 1b. 5. Meek
Scott, ss. 6. Pick
Thomas, 3b. 7. Deal
Andrew, c. 8. Kilmer
Bush, p. 9. Tyler

Officials of the Cubs were confident that a larger crowd would be out today.
Fair and warmer weather was predicted.

665 HUNS DOWNED BY BRITISH AIRMEN

LONDON, Thursday, Sept. 5.—Six hundred and sixty-five German airplanes have been brought down by the British in France since August 8, according to an official statement on aerial operations issued tonight.

The destruction of 165 of these has been clearly established.

The remaining 500 were driven down out of control and many of them must have crashed, the statement says.

In the same period, the British have lost 262 machines. The statement says.

These figures are exclusive of the considerable number of enemy machines brought down by gun fire from the ground. Sixty-one German balloons have been set on fire. Nine hundred and eleven and one-half tons of bombs have been dropped by us."

AMERICANS DECORATED WITH BRITISH HONORS

(By the Associated Press.)
WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Sept. 6.—Five Americans have been decorated with British honors for conspicuous gallantry in action on the British front. They are:

Lieutenant Allan Francis Bonalle,
Lieutenant Glenn Dwyer Ransom,
Corporal John Johnson and Privates
Lawrence B. Collier and Robert H.

CARDINAL O'CONNELL COMING TOMORROW

Members of the Lowell branch of the League of Catholic Women expect to have Cardinal O'Connell as their honored guest at the outing to be held tomorrow afternoon at the Notre Dame grounds in Tyngsboro.

A message has been received from the cardinal's secretary assuring the League women that unless unforeseen circumstances intervene, the cardinal will come to Tyngsboro and personally greet many of his old friends.

A special car will leave Merrimack square for Tyngsboro at 2.05 Saturday afternoon. It is expected there may be an attendance of over 200 members of the league's branch go to Tyngs-boro Saturday.

Retreat of Germans to Release Divisions to Form a Maneuvering Mass

(By the Associated Press.)
WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE, Sept. 6.—The retreat of Germans is continued and extended to release enough divisions to form a ma-
neuvering mass and regain a liberty of
action of which Marshal Foch's brilliant operations deprived them.

That is the expert opinion of the
situation based on the best obtainable
evidence of the condition of the German army and covering the views
prevailing among the German officers.

In the same expert opinion, the Germans are checked, but not check-mat-
ed. They still have resources that will enable them to continue stout defense and oblige the allies to make a
hard effort to clinch the victory which,
though inevitable, may still be further off than appears from optimistic
speculations based on recent successes.

Calculations based on the most accurate information available show that
the Germans have lost 1,100,000 men
since March 21.

The American army in France next
spring will alone exceed the whole
fighting strength of the German army,
but in the meantime divisions released
by the shortening of the line, if the
retreat is effected successfully, and
with a half a million men recuperated
from the wounded and 400,000 men of
the 1920 class now completing training, will constitute a maneuvering
army with which General Ludendorff
may be tempted to hazard another
stroke.

MAKING BISCUITS AND DODGING BULLETS

Mr. and Mrs. Michael McCartin, of 230 Rogers street have received good news from their 10 year old son, Sergt.
Joseph P. McCartin, now serving in the commissary department of the army in France.

Sergt. Joe serves as a volunteer having gone into the service about one year ago. He enlisted as a baker, that having been his occupation when living in Lowell and employed by his father who is a baker.

He writes that although he has been carrying on his work in a place close enough to the front line trenches so that occasionally bullets from Hun guns would mix with the biscuits, none of the aforesaid bullets have as yet connected with a vital part of his anatomy.

Sergt. Joe's promotion came recently as a reward for brave and meritorious work and resulted in his being jumped over 50 other bakers in the same unit. When living in Lowell Joe had many friends and was a prominent member of the O.M.I. exalts.

DOCTORS ADVISE
SPRING TONICS

Say There Is Nothing Equals
Iron and Phosphates

Experienced Doctors claim that everyone should take a good tonic in the Spring, that during the cold winter months we all eat too much meat, fats, heavy foods and too little fresh vegetables, that the entire system is clogged up, overloaded and overworked, causing thin, impure, watery blood and that tired, nervous feeling, pimples and bad complexion.

Honest doctors all over the land have found and are recommending and prescribing phosphates and iron as their spring tonic for the blood and nerves, they say it removes all impurities, unclogs the channels and sends the rich, red life-giving blood through the veins, renewing health, strength and nerve force as nothing else will.

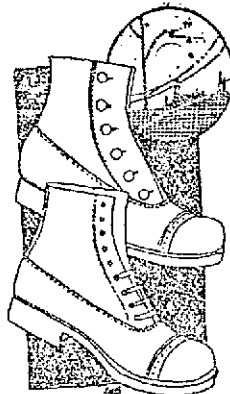

If you are all in, run down, fagged out and your nerves all shot to pieces and the joy gone from life, take Phosphated Iron, the red blood and nerve builder. It will make a new man or woman of you, make you feel like doing things again, renews that youthful feeling, you can almost feel yourself coming back. Try Phosphated Iron today, it has helped thousands and will not disappoint you.

To insure physicians and their patients getting the genuine Phosphated Iron it is put up in capsules only, do not allow dealers to give you pills or tablets. Insist on capsules.

Fred Howard, Lowell Pharmacy and leading druggists everywhere.

9 o'clock a funeral mass was sung by the pastor, Rev. Fr. Meaney. The choir rendered the Gregorian mass, the solos being sustained by Miss Gertrude Quigley, Mr. John Dalton, Mr. Frank Me-

War Time Tailoring
Demands Service

There is a great deal left to the imagination in the tailoring of a suit. Fully 60 per cent. of the tailoring, the most vital parts, are entirely hidden. There are many suits that to all outward appearances are beautifully made, but which prove disappointing after wear because all of the tailoring was on the outside, and the hidden parts slighted.

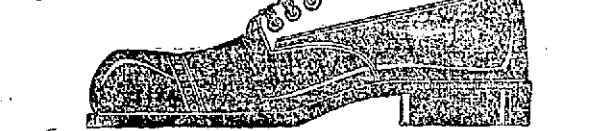

Your guarantee in buying a suit here is that every bit of tailoring, inside and out, is as perfect as the best tailors in the country can give.

PRES. WILSON NOT TO HUN CHANCELLOR VON HERTLING RESIGNS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—It is extremely unlikely that President Wilson will make a tour of the country in behalf of the fourth Liberty loan. Because of the pending revenue legislation and other important matters, the president was understood yesterday to feel that a prolonged absence from Washington this month would be unwise.

While no definite announcement that the president would make a swing around the country speaking for the loan had been made, it was generally understood that he was planning a trip that would take him to the Pacific coast.

PLANS FOR THE TRICENTENARY CELEBRATION OF LANDING OF THE PILGRIMS

PLYMOUTH, Sept. 6.—Plans for the tricentenary celebration of the landing of the Pilgrims, which will be held in 1920, were discussed today at the 8th general congress of the General Society of Mayflower Descendants, which convened here. Delegates were present from states throughout the east. The society is preparing to co-operate with the state authorities in promoting the celebration, and suggestions were offered today regarding the general plans laid down by the state commission in charge. The sessions of the congress will continue through tomorrow. The Massachusetts branch of the society also held its annual meeting today.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—Count George von Hertling, the Imperial German chancellor, has resigned, giving bad health as the cause for his retirement, according to the Geneva correspondent of the Daily Express quoting a despatch in Geneva from Munich, Bavaria.

Fighting Continues

The local branch of the auxiliary of the 101st Regiment, and, in common with branches of the 101st auxiliary located in all cities and towns in the state where soldiers from that town or city are serving in the 101st, the local women after careful planning and perfecting of campaign details, will try to collect money enough from patriotic people here tomorrow so that the aggregate sum will reflect with credit and honor on the generosity of the city.

The money thus collected will be put with the sums collected in other places including Boston and sent to France to be used by the proper regimental authorities to buy comforts and little necessities the soldier boy in the trenches needs so badly to help him stand the hardship of the terribly hard life in the trenches and in fact in all parts of the military area.

Young women will dot the downtown streets tomorrow, each carrying a card on which has been printed "101st Infantry, U.S.A., 12 Months' Foreign Service." They will carry baskets of little bunches of artificial daisies, and the idea is that you make a contribution to one of these women and she pins one of these bunches of daisies to your coat and this is a token that you are to be let alone the rest of the day, but the man or woman who is seen on the street tomorrow without the insignia of kindness will be advertising either that he or she has no money, or that the 12 months of brave and valiant service by our Lowell boys, in the course of which it has been inevitable that some boys should make the last great and supreme sacrifice, means nothing and that their hearts are adamant to an appeal made to gratitude.

The organization of the program for tomorrow has been very thorough and besides the solicitors to be seen on the street, arrangements have been made so that girls with these bunches of daisies will be permitted to canvass all the mills, shops and stores, and the workers cannot say that they have been skipped in the chance offered for them to make any small contribution toward his duty.

The Lowell branch of the fund will be in charge of Mrs. William H. Merritt, chairman, and she will be assisted by 25 women captains, each of whom will have a group of 18 or 20 women workers. In many cases the captains have asked that they might select the members of the teams they are to act as leader of and this has been done. The women are to be assisted also by members of the O.M.I. Cadets.

The observance of "fund day" is to also take on some civic significance as Mayor Thompson has asked all the bell ringers of the city, including the mill bell ringers, to peel their bells at noon to call attention to the fund being collected for the 101st boys in France. The commissioner of public safety has agreed to order one of the fire trucks to come to the centre of the city at the noon hour, also to help advertise the fund.

The women on the committee having charge of the collection for Lowell are: Mrs. Merritt, chairman; Miss Rose Quinn, Miss Helena O'Sullivan, Miss Mary D. Lang and Miss Mary Sullivan. The lieutenants are to be Mrs. Thomas Donnelly, Miss Nellie Donohue, Miss Mary King, Mrs. George Marshall, Mrs. Della Donohue, Miss Mary O'Sullivan, Miss Margaret Tobin, Miss Elsie McShane, Miss Mary McKee, Miss Mary Flanagan, Mrs. Jennie Flannery, Mrs. Betty Bowers, Mrs. Rose O'Rourke, Miss Barlow of Billerica, Mrs. Fred Lamoureux, Mrs. Rose Cox, Mrs. Boland and Mrs. Burnham of Chelmsford, Miss Mary Mullen, Mrs. Paul Kirtledge, Miss Mary McQuaid, Miss Frances Berg and Mrs. Frank Morrissey.

LOWELL SOCIAL SERVICE LEAGUE

The regular monthly meeting of the directors of the Lowell Social Service League, Inc., was held on Wednesday, Sept. 4 at 81 Merrimack street. A report was read of the work accomplished during the month of August, dealing with certain cases of family problems, co-operation, and results obtained, and participation in activities in aiding the best interests of the city. The league was in touch with problems of more families during August, numbering 283, than in the month of July which had been considered the busiest one yet experienced. There have been 185 new cards added in the confidential exchange.

In closing her report the general secretary said:

"The league is again this year represented on the executive committee of the Massachusetts state conference of charities. As a member of the sub-committee on program, I have just this morning received what is probably the final draft of the program; it includes an evening session on 'Reducing the Number of the Feeble-Minded,' two sessions, morning and afternoon, on 'Child Conservation,' including 'The Children's Year,' 'The Principles of Home Finding and Child Placing,' 'The War in Its Relation to Child Life,' and 'A Comprehensive State Children's Program,' an evening on 'New Campaign Against An Old Evil,' a morning on 'Women in War Industries,' and afternoon on 'Preventive Case Work,' including presentation of cases in public poor relief; family care, public health; Red Cross home service. The conference this year is to be held at Springfield, Mass., October 20 through Nov. 1."

Then she gave a brief account of the interest taken by the volunteer workers, and said that although during the summer months there were not quite so many at the league, still many former workers have again shown a desire to help, as well as several new comers. She pointed out that it will be much better to have a definite time stated by the workers as to when they can assist, even if it is only a few hours each week.

While making measurements of river flow in the Mississippi river basins and in the Hudson bay recently, the United States geological survey discovered that some of the rivers under investigation empty into the Arctic ocean during certain seasons and into the Atlantic ocean at other times.

CAMP NEWS

NEW OFFICERS REACH CAMP DEVENS—NEW ENGLANDERS JUST OUT OF SCHOOL

CAMP DEVENS, Sept. 6.—Bronzed and fit after strenuous training, with new gold bars on their shoulder straps, 50 ex-privates and non-coms of the old 16th came back to the campment yesterday. They were graduated from the fourth officers training camp at Camp Lee, Va., three days ago. All were assigned to the Depot Brigade. Their arrival was a compliment to Camp Devens and the 12th division. Contrary to general custom, the officers were given a choice of camps at ter their graduation. The men immediately and earnestly said, "back to Devens."

The men are: Francis W. Murphy, 1405 Massachusetts av., North Adams; James H. Brackley, 1 Elm st., North Adams; Frank M. Collingwood, 7 Yale st., Holyoke; William C. Knoepfel, 127 Foster st., New Haven, Conn.; Albert L. Latham, 432 St. Lawrence st., Hartford, Conn.; Philip M. Kauteback, 605 Beach av., Monmouth, East Haven, Conn.; Allen D. McIntosh, Needham; Wallace Rand, Jr., 26 Chesham road, Brookline; Michael F. Howard, North Main st., East Brookfield; William L. McIlwraith, 310 North st., Bridgewater; Fred W. Hall, Center Stratford, N. H.; Clarence Sylvia, 32 Spring st., Fairhaven.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM LOWELL SOLDIERS IN THE WAR ZONE

Devonshire, England, Aug. 15th.

Dear Sally: Just a line hoping you are all doing fine as I am myself. I was hit a week ago this morning in the big advance. I just got to Fritz's line when one shell got four of us. My captain is here, too. He got shrapnel through the shoulder, a bad one and the bone broken. My battery is practically wiped out so he says, but Fritz sure got hell. His dead was piled up around his line from our barrage. We went over at 4:20 a. m. with the first wave, but he caught us with his whizz bang barrage, and I had to make a shell hole and tie up my wound, and I stayed there a few minutes until I could move off. I never expected to get through his barrage to the dressing station, as his heavies were pounding our artillery and I had two or three miles to walk out, but I made it and my leg was painful and very stiff. I am having the piece taken out today. This is a lovely place, a beautiful room, Plymouth, and the sisters use us as a home. There is quite a lot of Canadian wounded. We left the line at 11:30 after being sent "over the top" at Hanger Wood east of Amiens on the morning of the 8th. They sure had Fritz guessing, his prisoners were rolling in the first few minutes and we got all kinds of souvenirs, watches, rings, iron crosses, etc. I had nothing of my own coming out, but I had a dump of when I was hit. I landed in the hospital at Rouen with only my tin hat and gas mask; I did look a mess too, all blood and whiskers, but believe me, my day begins in the morning. I suppose they called you I was wounded, they always do. I wrote your mother from Rouen. Well, what do you know now I come in, my operation. Give my love to all. My mail is tied up again now, through coming to Belligny. Best of luck and write soon.

Yours,

GEORGE.

Private Mullen

Private Frank L. Mullen, Co. K, 104 U.S. Infantry, writes as follows to his mother, Mrs. F. Mullen, 222 Charles street:

Somewhere in France, July 29, 1918.

My Dear Mother: You must forgive me for not writing sooner, but really I am doing the best I can. As you know, I am at school here and all my time is taken up attending lectures, pouring over notes and taking notes, just imagine, my day begins at 8 a. m. and ends at 5 p. m., so you see I will not have much time to myself, for a month to come, but I will try to learn all I can and I am needed I will be able to give them the best that can be found. As to my health, I never felt better. Really, mother, I am getting big and heavier, my day begins in the morning, you will not know me. Oh, I just wish you were here and I know you would be happy. I am having the time of my life, the people here are just splendid and are kind to us. We have a number of friends who take us to their houses and make us feel right at home. I am going to come back to Lowell in the morning. I will tell you how it is in Lowell at this time and feel as though I have something to be thinking of, as I suppose the people in Lowell are getting a little tired, but must be hard on some of them. I have to go home and sleep at 10 o'clock. Well that is only one of the privations of war. I won't let it be a grand and glorious day when peace is declared, I can almost see the happy faces on the boys over here, as they almost have the old Kaiser now. Well mother, I have seen quite a lot of Lowell boys here and they are all in the best of health and do you know who I saw last night—my old friend Jack and here he is, I was mighty glad to see him. Well I must close now, with best regards to everybody.

From your loving son,

FRANK.

The Number of Substitutes for Wheat Flour Has Been Reduced

BOSTON, Sept. 5.—The Massachusetts committee on public safety yesterday issued a statement of the food regulations for the coming year, as worked out by Federal Administrator Hoover in conference with the food administrators of the countries with which we are allied in the war.

It says these rules are the same as are being made for our allies, and that by the strict observance of them and the continued use of corn bread, the people of Massachusetts may feel that they are doing their part in sustaining the fighting forces.

Authorized List Reduced

The list of authorized flour substitutes has been reduced to cornmeal, chusets. No other cereals than the and, at the customer's option, rice flour, potato flour, buckwheat flour and a few other flours that are not sold in Massachusetts. No other cereals than the above are now allowed to be sold as substitutes. Hominy, corn grits, corn starch, rolled oats, oatmeal and rice have been stricken from the list.

The proportion of substitutes required to be sold has been changed from "50-50" to "80-20," except in the case of rye flour, of which two pounds must be sold to three pounds of straight wheat flour. That is, the retailer must now sell to the consumer at least one pound of cornmeal, corn flour, barley flour, or of the other permitted substitutes, with each three pounds of straight wheat flour sold, or two pounds of pure rye flour with each three pounds of wheat flour sold.

The same rules apply to sales to public eating houses, clubs and boarding houses, as to sales to individual consumers.

Bakers are also required to use 20 per cent substitutes in all their bread, pastry, etc., but the supplier is not responsible for the amount of substitutes that the baker buys.

FREIGHT CONGESTION IN EAST THING OF PAST

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Freight congestion in the east is a thing of the past, and munitions and food are reaching the Atlantic seaboard as fast as ships can be provided to carry them overseas, according to reports made by the 80 federal railroad managers to Director-General McArdoo and Regional Director A. H. Smith, at a conference here yesterday. Passenger traffic is fully 25 per cent greater than ever, before.

Mr. McArdoo, addressing the federal managers, said the railroads of the west "can take care of anything." Thousands of empty cars are ready at important points to move the crops out of that region. He emphasized the need of each railroad manager synchronizing his work and urged them to view their work from the personal as well as the technical standpoint. Delays were not only dangerous, he said, but victory itself depended on the transportation system of the United States meeting up to its task to feed and equip the soldiers at the front.

Complimenting Regional Director Smith of the east, J. H. Eustis of New England, and H. A. Worcester of Ohio and eastern Indiana, he declared there was not a car in the country but could be moved to its destination speedily and that "We don't allow stuff to be loaded until we find there is a ship to take it away."

Referring to the congestion, Mr. McArdoo said that when the government

Gompers Tells the British Labor Congress Government Should Act

DERBY, England, Sept. 6.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and William Bowen, president of the International Bricklayers' union, yesterday visited the British labor congress, which is now in session here, and delivered their fraternal greetings. Mr. Gompers, who spoke at some length, received an enthusiastic greeting.

After speaking of the complete agreement that existed between the American government and labor on the subject of the war, he said he did not agree with the old governments of England in their treatment of Ireland. "My sympathy was with Ireland, and is now with the heart of real Ireland," he declared.

He added that after the Boer war the conquered Boers were found fighting for their mother country, and that England should have pledged themselves to grant Ireland her just demand for home rule.

After telling the labor congress what American labor was doing in the war, he said:

"I would not prolong this war one minute longer than is necessary. But I would be unwilling to shorten it one hour if it meant that the military machine was to continue, and would bring the next decade into another war."

The labor congress presented Mr. Bowen a gold watch, and gave Mr. Gompers some silver plate for Mrs. Gompers.

A crab apple tree on the Cornish farm in North Bath, Me., bore a blossom and fruit on the same branch recently. William T. Pero, who now carries on this farm, was for some years connected with the state forestry department, and has made quite a study of trees, but this is the first time he has found anything like this freak of nature.

MRS. DE WEESE COULD NOT STAND

Because of Functional Disorder—Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Oakland, Cal.—"I suffered from irregularities and congestion, so I could not stand on my feet for any long period of time and did not sleep well. The physician who treated me did not seem to help me any and a friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and before I realized it I was well. I shall recommend your valuable remedy to my friends."—Mrs. L. H. DE WEESE, 605 Alcatraz Ave., Oakland, Cal.

Every woman at some period or other in her life suffers from just such disturbances as did Mrs. Weese, and if there is no interested friend to advise, let this be a reminder that this famous root and herb remedy has been overcoming these ailments of women for more than 40 years.

The letters constantly being published from women in every section of this country prove beyond question the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

BOSTON YEOWOMAN AND SAILOR KILLED

HAMPTON FALLS, N. H., Sept. 6.—P. J. O'Brien, a second class seaman attached to the Charlestown navy yard, and Miss Mary A. Monahan of 1407 Commercial street, Allston, a yeowoman at the same yard were killed last night when the auto in which they were driving struck a gravel pile near the residence of Charles Johnson on the state boulevard and overturned. Miss Marie A. George of Cambridge, Mass., also a yeowoman attached to the commandant's office at the Charlestown navy yard, was probably fatally injured.

According to Johnson, the car was going so fast that it rolled over two or three times. All of the occupants were thrown clear of it. O'Brien landed between the car tracks and lived only a few minutes.

The injured women were rushed to the Cottage hospital at Exeter as soon as an ambulance could be procured. Miss Monahan dying shortly after her arrival. Miss George is injured internally and at the hospital it was stated that she was not expected to live.

Medical Referee Pender ordered the bodies turned over to a local undertaker to await orders from the naval authorities. It was stated last night that the bodies would be taken to the Portsmouth navy yard to be prepared for burial.

It is a straight piece of roadway where the accident happened and it is believed that O'Brien lost control of the machine when it struck the pile of gravel on the side of the road. According to Johnson, the sole witness of the accident, no other car was in sight at the time.

Among O'Brien's effects was found a summons to appear in the third district court on Sept. 3 to answer to the charge of speeding on the Charles river parkway in Cambridge.

Miss George and Miss Monahan are yeowomen at the Charlestown navy yard. Miss George formerly lived in Somerville and Miss Monahan was a resident of Charlestown, but both have recently moved.

Miss George last October was awarded a certificate of honor and a medal of merit for the remarkable success she attained in raising $3000 by means of a ball held last summer for the Naval Relief society.

LOWELL NORMAL SCHOOL WELL REPRESENTED

The Lowell Normal school has been well represented at the four-days' Normal school conference being held at Bridgewater this week, as nearly all the teachers were present at the conference, many of them taking an active part in the program. John J. Mahoney, principal of the Lowell school, was elected at yesterday's session to act as vice president of the new state organization that was formed.

On Tuesday Mr. Mahoney opened a discussion on "The Responsibility of the Normal School in a More Rapid Extension of Instruction in Citizenship" which was led by Miss Blanche A. Cheney of Lowell. On Wednesday night Albert Edmund Brown, assisted by Mrs. Brown, gave a song recital. On Thursday Miss Sarah F. Lovell was the leader of the topic "A Standard Course in Oral and Written English," and Miss Edith R. Sanders was a speaker in the "School Garden Work" discussed. The Lowell teachers return to the city today.

DRAFT NEWS

On next Thursday between the hours of 7 a. m. and 9 p. m. all male persons in the town of Dracut between the ages of 18 and 46, except those already registered, must register in the Grange hall in Dracut Centre. Town Clerk John W. Bronnan, who has charge of the work, states that he is doing his best to make the work as easy as possible for all concerned and he wishes to ask the assistance of anyone who may be able to help in the work of registration. All persons who can assist and would like to volunteer their services should notify Mr. Bronnan on or before next Saturday.

SAYS GERMAN ARMIES SAFEGUARDING HOMES

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 6.—Vienna newspapers received here continue to print interviews with Field Marshal von Hindenburg and Gen. Ludendorff, the latest appearing in the Neues Wiener Journal and Az Est.

"The war has now been concentrated upon French territory," Gen. Ludendorff is quoted as saying, "and by the enormous mobilization of troops and materials has assumed proportions which have thrown everything hitherto accomplished in the shade. We thus far have stood the bitter struggle honorably and are confident that we will continue to do so."

GERMAN PAPERS SAY FOCH TOOK PAGE FROM HINDENBURG IN METHOD OF DEFENSE

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Marshal Foch is credited by some of the German newspapers with adopting a "new method of defense learned from Hindenburg." The allied commander is said by the German correspondent of the Berlin Vorwaerts to have applied the method to the defensive fighting just before the great allied offensive began at the Marne salient in July.

The method is described as a withdrawal of troops from the first line and placing the main force on the second line. This weakened the effect of the German artillery.

"Enemy batteries were in such deep formation," wrote the Vorwaerts correspondent, "that their barrage struck the German attack not in front of the first line but only in front of the second line. This defensive action, learned from Hindenburg, naturally demands a new method of attack which will not be long in coming."

CHILE IS NEAR BREAK WITH GERMANY

(By cable to the Committee on Public Information)

SANTIAGO, Chile, Sept. 5.—The attempt of German crews to destroy their interned ships in Chilean harbors on Tuesday night caused a sensation and a wave of indignation has swept through Chile. The plot to destroy the ships apparently was carefully planned, as crews of these three different ports acted simultaneously, using dynamite to destroy the machinery.

The German steamers interned in Chilean ports number 32, while the total number of sailing vessels is 57. The tonnage of the steamers and sailing vessels aggregated 230,000. Seven steamers were damaged.

The government immediately took

active measures to prevent depredations. Further action by the government has been temporarily blocked as a result of the resignation of the ministry on Tuesday. The matter is now resting until a new cabinet has been formed. Feeling among the Chilean people against the German outrage is running high.

NARROW GAUGE R.R. MEN STRIKE

PHILIPS, Me., Sept. 6.—Traffic on the Sandy river and Rangley Lakes railroad was suspended by a strike today of its 55 conductors, baggage men, brakemen, engineers and firemen to enforce a demand for a wage increase of about 32 per cent.

The road is a narrow gauge system, extending from Farmington to Rangley with a branch to Bigelow, and having a trackage of 75 miles.

The present wage is $2.75 for engineers, $2.65 for conductors, $2.35 for baggage men and $2.15 for brakemen and firemen.

Hand him another — Quick!

IT'S life or death in the trench—there must be no delay in supplying every man in France with EVERYTHING that he may need or want in his job of licking the Hun. Many a man's life will hang on there being another rifle ready to his hands, a new, keen-edged bayonet, a plentiful supply of grenades. Back of every man who goes over the top and into the Hun's trenches there must be a steady, unending flow of supplies.

Our job over here is to MAKE SURE the supplies are there and at hand. That means working every minute of every working day. It means, too, STICKING to the job. And there is one of our gravest dangers. America is losing more through thoughtless changing of jobs, thoughtless hiring of men than through almost any other one thing. It costs on the average $20 to $200 every time a man changes his job. The man loses time. A machine stands idle that ought to be working top speed on those war supplies.

Changes, of course, must be made, for the war industries need more and more men. But don't let's make changes from one essential

war work to another unless there's a mighty good reason.

For this purpose the Government has established the United States Employment Service with 500 branch offices and 20,000 U. S. Public Service Reserve agents to help men find war work and to help manufacturers find more men without interfering with other war work. Use this Service—it is free—prompt. It covers the country. It is one sure way of knowing that you are HELPING to win the war.

Address the nearest U. S. Employment Office or the Director General at Washington.

"Industry plays as essential and honorable a role in this great struggle as do our military armaments."

"Therefore, I solemnly urge all employers engaged in war work to refrain after August 1st, 1918, from recruiting unskilled labor in any manner except through this central agency [U. S. Employment Service]."

"I urge labor to respond as loyally as heretofore to any calls issued by this agency for voluntary enlistment in essential industry. And I ask them both alike to remember that no sacrifice will have been in vain, if we are able to prove beyond all question that the highest and best form of efficiency is the spontaneous co-operation of a free people."

British Government Has
Proof of Destruction of 150 German Raiders

List of Authors of Atrocious
Crimes—Man Who Sank
Lusitania on List

LONDON, Sept. 6.—Although the British government does not intend to adopt the practice of giving proof of official utterances made by its ministers, it has been thought desirable to print in the newspapers the names of the commanding officers of 150 German submarines which have been disposed of, in order to substantiate the statement of Premier Lloyd George in the house of commons, that "at least 150 of these ocean pests have been destroyed."

Most of Officers Dead
The statement published does not include the names of officers commanding Austrian submarines put out of action.

A majority of the 150 officers mentioned are dead. Some of them are prisoners of war, and a few are interned in neutral countries where they took refuge.

Kapitan-Lieutenant Schweiger, who while in command of the U-20 torpedoed the Lusitania in May, 1915. The U-20 was lost on the British coast in 1916, but Schweiger survived and was in command of the U-80, which was lost with all hands in September, 1917. Kapitan-Lieutenant Paul Wagner, who sank the steamer Belgian Prince, July 31, 1917, and drowned 40 of the crew, whom he had ordered to lineup on the submarine's deck when the U-boat was about to submerge. His submarine, the U-44, was sunk with all hands about a fortnight later.

Kapitan-Lieutenant Rudolph Schmelzer, who torpedoed the steamer Arabie in August, 1915.

The statement says it is significant that the authors of particularly atrocious crimes have expiated them speedily after their commission. It says the names of such men are carefully noted by the British admiralty and that special endeavors are made

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulled coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few quinces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

to bring their active careers swiftly to an end. Several commanders, it is added, have escaped retribution by finding refuge in short-term internments.

Prominent among those named as having escaped retribution, but whom the British navy has on its list, are, according to the statement, Kvyeten-Kapitan Max Fohlenstern, who was responsible for many sinkings of vessels, among them, the Norwegian steamer Magda, the Spanish steamer Pena Castillo, the Italian steamer Ancona and the British steamer Persia; Kapitan-Lieutenant Wilhelm Werner; for the sinking of hospital ships, and the Korvetten-Kapitan Freiherr Von Forstner, who when in command of the U-28 sank the British steamers Falaba and Aguila.

ACTS TO AVERT STRIKE OF BOSTON FIREMEN

BOSTON, Sept. 6.—Possibility of averting the threatened strike of the Boston firemen is found in the announcement by Mayor Peters of an immediate increase to $1100 for all firemen now receiving $900 or $1000, and who have served at least three months; the elimination of the $1000 grade altogether, establishing $1100 as the minimum for new men after three months probation and the promise to consider the demands of the higher paid men when the budget for 1919 is prepared.

The mayor did not wish it to be understood that his action was taken under the threat of a strike, but that it was taken as a result of prolonged investigation, a report from the finance commission having been received yesterday, and conferences with Fire Commissioner Gray. The $13,000 to $14,000 additional money will be found by dipping into the $22,000 surplus now existing in the payroll appropriation resulting from failure to obtain the full complement of men required by the going into effect of the one-day-off-in-three ordinance.

Mayor Peters realizes that the malcontents in the department may refuse to consider his offer, and at the first sign of trouble he will request Gov. McCall to call out the state guard to man the department to any extent required. While he trusts that the firemen generally will accept the solution of the problem, he adds significantly: "Those who do not wish to do so may of course resign their positions and seek higher paid employment elsewhere."

MORALE OF GERMANS IS WEAKENING

WITH AMERICAN TROOPS IN FRANCE, Sept. 6.—(By the Associated Press)—Every evidence obtainable by the Americans as they press upon the German armies points to the gradual, continuous and ever-more-rapid weakening morale of the troops and the lowering of their effectiveness to a serious point.

The American military authorities draw this conclusion from the action of the German command in shortening the line by voluntary withdrawals, its enforcement of longer tours of duty in the front trenches upon the troops, the coming of the service for infantrymen, the disbanding of storm battalions to bolster up inferior divisions, and even the use of Austrian troops on the western front.

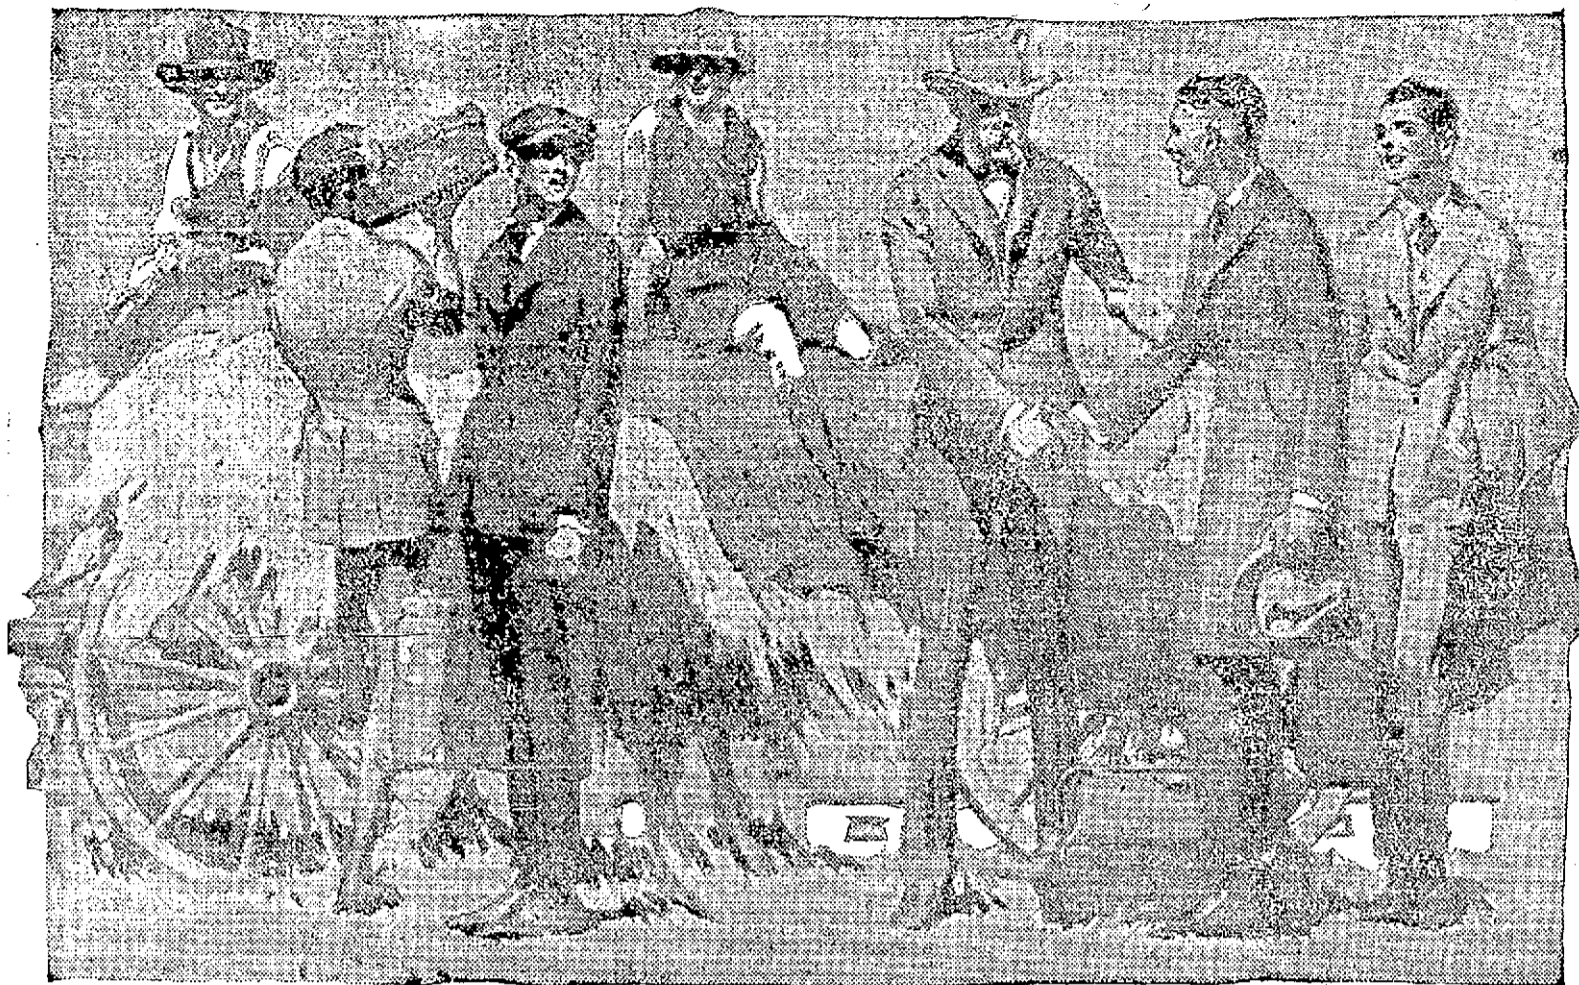

At least seven German divisions have been disbanded so that the men might be used to replace losses sustained during the summer campaign. Some separate regiments have been broken up, also. Prisoners declare that the practice of forming storm battalions had so weakened the infantry regiments that it had to be given up.

The number of German divisions classified as "Tested" dropped rapidly from 53 on July 15 to 50 on Aug. 24. Twenty-nine were originally designated as first-class, but only 13 were so designated on the August date. Seven had only had two weeks' rest at that time. In many cases German divisions have had to remain in line for long periods, and fully 150 of the first-line divisions have been fighting continuously from two and one-half to four months.

A captured document shows that a plan has been projected to disband the fourth company of every battalion which had fallen below 650 men, reducing the battalion to three companies. The advantage of this plan, it is pointed out by German officers, is that the arrangement would result in lessened needs for officers; equipment and men will thus be available to fill up the depleted units which it is hoped to retain, although the strength of trench companies has fallen to from 40 to 50 men.

BRITISH DOWNED 4000 HUN AIRSHIPS IN YEAR

LONDON, Sept. 6.—The British, during the year ending June 30 last, brought down considerably over 4000 German aircraft, while British machines missing have only slightly exceeded 1000. It is officially announced, "German machines refuse battle unless they have a decided superiority in numbers," it is added. "Where numbers are equal British victory is assured; where numbers are with the Germans, British victory is very frequent."

British Push On

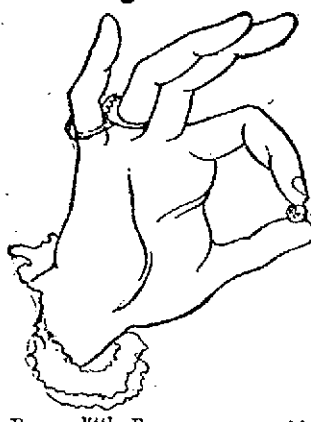

German rear guards have been driven back on the British front north and south of Peronne and larger forces of Germans have been engaged between Athies and Nurlu and also about Monvres and Neuville Bourjival. Between Glivechy and Neuve Chappelle the British have regained all the ground taken from them by the Germans last April. Farther north on the Lys front the British have pushed their line forward south and southeast of Nieppe and northeast of Wulverghem. The retrograde movement of the Germans under continued pressure by the Americans who have extended their front east of the Aisne, and by the French in the same section, has been further increased up to Rheims. East of Rheims, however, the Germans apparently have decided to make a stand.

Vesle Cleared of Germans

French and Americans have now cleared the Vesle of the Germans and advanced to positions of a commanding nature with every prospect of driving them back upon the old Hindenburg line beyond the Chamin-des-Bois. Confagations behind the German lines and reports from the allied aviators indicate that the Germans in this sector are preparing to retreat on as prisoners were taken by the advancing troops.

Between the Somme and Oise French troops have captured blocks of hills known as the Outrecoeur massif, which is within three miles of Chany. Field Marshal Haig's forces crossed the Canal du Nord on the whole front, except from Havrincourt north to the Scarpe.

The French have secured a good hold on the northern bank of the Allotte and on the terrain between that river and the Oise. They are approaching if they are not actually on the Hindenburg line on the St. Gahin massif. Southeast of Peronne the British have reached Athies and Mons-en-Chaussee. They have captured the village of Doingt. On the Flanders front the British are established in portions of the old German front line east of Neuve-Chappelle and in the old British line in the Fauquissart sector.

The British also have advanced northwest of Armentieres. North of Peronne British forces are in possession of the town of Bessure and are in the immediate vicinity of Templeux-La Fosse, Nurlu and Egan-court.

AMERICAN TROOPS TAKETWO MORE TOWNS

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Thursday, Sept. 5, 11 p. m.—Franco-American troops reached the south bank of the Aisne tonight between Conde and Viellarcy, an eight-mile front. American forces this afternoon occupied the towns of Dhuzel and Barbonval virtually without opposition.

FRENCH CONTINUE TOPUSH FORWARD

PARIS, Sept. 5.—French troops last night continued to push forward on the entire front between the Somme and the Vesle, says today's war office report. South of Peronne French troops made further crossings of the Somme in the region of Epaucourt. Further south the Ham-Peronne road was reached at several points.

South of Ham the towns of Loppesais, Pette, d'Oie and Berliancourt were captured and still further south the French pursuing troops pushed beyond Guivry, Caillouel-Crepigny and Abbe-court.

In the region north of the Allotte the French reached the outskirts of Sinceny and the plateau north of Landricourt and south of the Allotte, the advancing forces are along the Vauxillon ravine.

The American troops advancing from the Vesle have captured the town of Glemies, southeast of Ravillon and have advanced their lines as far as the outskirts of Villers-en-Prayeres, on the Aisne.

"In the course of the night we continued to advance on the entire front between the Somme and the Vesle. Our troops continued to cross the Somme in the region of Epaucourt, and further south pushed forward at several points as far as the road from Ham to Peronne. South of Ham, the French occupied Le Plessis-Patte-d'Oie and Berliancourt and passed beyond Guivry, Caillouel-Crepigny and Abbe-court.

SHERMAN'S POLITICAL RANTING

U. S. Senator Sherman, republican of Illinois, has broken out again, this time in a vitriolic tirade against President Wilson, Secretary Baker, Secretary of Commerce Redfield, Postmaster General Burleson, Samuel Gompers, Secretary MacAdoo and Col. House. So far as we can interpret the meaning of the senator's attack, his contention is, that the administration at Washington under pretense of patriotic ardor in prosecuting the war, is simply scheming to secure permanent political control rather than the defeat of Germany.

On this assumption the senator declares to the world that Sam Gompers is president of the United States so far as labor is concerned, that MacAdoo is operating the railroads as a political machine for the perpetuation of democratic control, that Burleson for a like purpose is dictator over the transmission of intelligence, while Col. House as a personal envoy of the president has exercised unofficial and usurped powers of government.

According to this political seer, the administration at Washington with President Wilson as the prime mover "under the specious pretext of war necessity is making an effort to establish autocratic power in the land."

This charge taken in conjunction with some others of the same stamp, is almost as bad as anything said by the I. W. W. leaders recently convicted; and if treason can be uttered with impunity in the senate, the government will naturally have greater difficulty in suppressing it throughout the land.

Sherman was a member of the coterie that was snowed under when President Wilson refused to favor the republican scheme for a super-cabinet board to supervise the expenditures and the management of the war. The president met the agitation for a coalition cabinet brought forward under various disguises with the intimation that he would exercise all the powers vested in him by the constitution, and as a result, not only was the republican plan rejected, but the Overman bill was passed giving the president power to reorganize any department as he saw fit. Under that law he has already reorganized several departments. He has called to the service the best men the nation affords, many of them republicans; but he did not submit to the audacious proposition to appoint an overhead advisory body with power to restrict, obstruct and paralyze the unified direction of the war as provided for by the constitution.

That is the ill concealed gravamen of the attack upon the administration by this political alarmist from Illinois.

The fact that President Wilson is reported to have planned a speaking tour in aid of the fourth Liberty loan, seems to have greatly excited the Illinois statesman who in consequence opens his batteries of bitter rancor against the administration in a manner that must give aid and comfort to the enemy and that cannot fail to prove embarrassing to the government in trying to secure the loyal support of all the people in prosecuting the war to a glorious triumph.

The success of the administration in conducting the war has already confounded its critics and now the howl is not on account of alleged delay or inefficiency as in the early stages of the preparations, but against an alleged effort to secure perpetuation of democratic control.

Not to expedite the operations of war did the administration seize the railroads, not to stop profiteering did it assume control of the supply of food and fuel, not to secure industrial peace or promote production did the government favor an increase of wages, not to overthrow the autocracy of Germany but to establish an autocracy in this land, has President Wilson been preaching democracy and world freedom—no, all these things were done, we are told, with one underlying aim and purpose which is to maintain democratic ascendancy and to perpetuate the democratic party in power.

It was for the same purpose, of course, that Director General MacAdoo recently issued an order providing that any official or employee of the railroads who takes any part in politics beyond the exercise of the franchise, would be summarily dismissed. And on the same theory of this irate senator also, it was to reserve all the emoluments of office for democratic adherents that President Wilson appointed the following with many other republicans to office:—

John D. Ryan
Head of Aircraft
Charles M. Schwab
Head of U. S. Emergency Ship Corporation
William Kent
Ex-Congressman from California.
Tariff Commission U. S.
Victor Murdock
Ex-Congressman from Kansas, Commissioner, Federal Trade Commission
Everett Colby
Food Administration
Bridges Colby
U. S. Shipping Board
H. A. Garfield
U. S. Fuel Commissioner
Herbert Hoover
Food Administrator
E. M. Hopkins
Industrial Relations, Q. M. G.'s Office
Edward R. Steadman
Assistant Secretary of War

Charles P. Nell Industrial Relations, Signal Corps
G. W. W. Hanger
Asst. Com. U. S. Board of Mediation and Conciliation
William Howard Taft
Ex-President U. S., Chairman War Labor Board
William R. Wilcox
Chairman National Republican Committee during campaign of Mr. Hughes' candidacy for Presidency, appointed on Commission under Mr. MacAdoo, Director General of Railroads.
Elby Root
Head of Mission to Russia
Howard Heinz
Federal Food Administrator in Pennsylvania.
Charles Evans Hughes
Aircraft Inquiry

But it is wrong perhaps to expect any regard for reason or veracity from this rampant, ranting, rancorous senator. He is apparently politically insane. He sees nothing at Washington except through republican glasses of the old reactionary type dating back to the days of Mark Hanna and the plutocratic trusts. He has disgraced his party, his state and the senate of the United States in this quite as much as when he voted for the Gore resolution relinquishing our rights on the high seas.

We would advise the people of Illinois to appoint a committee of alienists to pass upon the senator's sanity, and if such body decided that he is still in his right mind, then he should be impeached for treasonable utterances against the government in time of war. But, if it be found that Sherman is really sane, it may be found also that he has political ambitions to run for the presidency in 1920. From any such calamity may the good Lord deliver us. If he should become a candidate, however, he would certainly receive every German vote in the country as a reward for his anti-American services in the senate, but that might be his limit. If he were running for re-election this fall, he would certainly get his deserts in the same fate that has overtaken Senator Vandaman of Mississippi and that without any suggestions from President Wilson.

The bureau of industrial housing of the U. S. department of labor has found it necessary to issue a warning that the funds at the disposal of the bureau to provide for housing projects in industrial centers are limited and that while it may be necessary in some cities and towns to expand existing contracts, it should be done only in the most urgent of cases. Lowell has been promised a government subsidized housing project but the progress on its accomplishment seems to lag. Let us hope that by the time we plan to celebrate breaking ground for the cellars of houses in Belvidere, the money to build them

Most of us remember that story that "broke" in Chicago last winter when Nelson Morris of the big packing family, announced in the course of testimony given before the federal trade commission in the hearing to determine if packing house workers should have more pay, that he believed a chance to go to the movies twice a year was all that the workers employed by his firm had a right to expect as entertainment. In spite of this evidence of pinheadness, Nelson seems to have made a pretty good soldier for, after playing tag with the draft law for some time, being finally inducted into service at Camp Meigs, he studied hard enough so that he won a commission as a first lieutenant after three months in the service.

No one can argue that at present the combination put at the disposal of Marshal Foch is not the best possible. From America comes money, munitions, an enormous man power and includes soldiers unexcelled for courage and daring. America for her part, is to be congratulated that into the custody of a man of such great leadership and military genius as Marshal Foch, this treasure of war resources is entrusted.

A good deal of commendation and approval will be forthcoming to Mrs. Howard Gould of New York, an immensely rich woman, who says she will not live in Washington because of the exorbitant prices charged for food and housing. Mrs. Gould objected to paying 40 cents for one egg at breakfast and $1.40 for 12 fried oysters and so would any other person of good sense.

SEEN AND HEARD

Those new 51 bills are pretty to look at, but they don't get anywhere with today's prices.

The war certainly has put a damper on the usual interest in the world's series.

An exchange has a story about a fellow picking canned blueberries. Always supposed you had to pick 'em and then can 'em.

A fatless cat attracted the attention of a fatless dog in John street the other day and as nothing remarkable happened this will have to be set down as a fatless tale.

Mayor Hurley of Lawrence was in town Wednesday evening, renewing old acquaintances and the down-river town's genial chief executive has many friends in Lowell. He is an interesting talker and a mixer of the first water.

The fellow who took his girl out to ride behind the old gray mare last Sunday was cock of the walk and it looks as if he would have ample opportunity to repeat the wonderful experience of having the road all to himself on the Sabbath with no automobiles to bother him.

The man who enjoys the spirited life of conductor on the Fletcher street car, Mr. Toohy, has returned from the lively environments of Old Orchard beach and he says he is in the pink of condition and ready for the big business that he expects on the Fletcher street line this winter.

Footling the Hun

A Tank in a German war prison made a nice use of words in telling what he thought about German treatment of prisoners. He did it this way: "We are treated well. The Germans are kind to us. They provide us with the best of everything. There is only one thing we prisoners here could wish for, and that is to be at 'Green-lawn'."

That got by the sharp eye of the Hun censor, who didn't know that "Green-lawn" was the cemetery in the Yank's home town.

Large Enough

Ex-President Taft, in his younger days, when he was a law reporter, had been studying a case in Somerville, O., and found he couldn't get back to the office that night unless he managed to stop a through express. So he wired to headquarters, "Will you stop the through express at Somerville to take on a large party?"

The answer came back, "Yes." The express was duly stopped at Somerville. The young law reporter got aboard with his copy, and the conductor said, "Where's that large party I was to take on?"

"I'm it," was the chuckling answer. "That's all."—Christian Register.

Mothers of Warriors

(Copyright, 1918, N.E.A.)
"Mothers of warriors, but not of war! We, who have given life to men, abhor the air of the bayonet. This is our plea to slaughter other women's sons."

But we are mothers not alone of youth.
But mothers of Humanity and Truth.
Who shall preserve the unlook of the future.
If we should shrink our self-elected place.

We who have given renewal to the earth
Out of the passions and the pains of birth.
We who have suffered that the race may live,
We who have most to love have most to give.

And we have given All, giving that part which fled from the warm core of our own heart.
Forgoing our own good for good of others.
We send our sons to war to stand—or fall.

Ready the lips of every dear son slain
Shall humbly cry against this curse of Fate.
And Victory our sons do battle for Shall make War Mothers victors over war.

—EDMUND VANCE COOKE.

When a Shell Passes
A British aviator who had been flying in France since the beginning of the war told the story of meeting a shell from a German 17-inch gun which he was in the air.

I was at an altitude of about 6000 feet one day, and climbing higher at an easy angle, when one of these big fellows came ploughing along in the opposite direction. First, a dark little ball appeared ahead at an angle of about 35 degrees above me. At first it seemed to be coming right at me, and I averted to the left in an instinctive effort to dodge the threatened blow. Then a sort of drouing hum became audible, and that sound increased during the two or three seconds that elapsed before the big missile came up to me and swept past. It was probably several hundred yards away at its nearest, but the distance seemed less.

A few faint stirrings of air began to rock my machine even before the shell went by, but the full force of the "air wash" came a fraction of a second later. Then an almost solid wall of air nearly threw me on my beam ends, and I was really hard put to it to get the reeling machine back on an even keel. For the next mile or two the air was like water in the wake of a big side-wheeler—all chopped to pieces—and the machine rocked like a springless motor lorry going over cobbles. The air was disturbed for some seconds after a loud roar astern had told me the shell had come to earth.—Popular Mechanics.

A Pleasant Time Had By All

You've ridden in a Street car driven by one of those Motormen who start, And stop the car With a jerk as though They're going to start the car from its wheels? Well, we hopped on One the other day, Packed to the gills. (We mean the car) And at every stop, and Start the motorman Would slam on the brakes, And turn on the juice So it would bump Everybody loose from Their rubber heels. But we were all Rewarded after a bit And we enjoyed the jolt. At one stop, just as the Motorman let his grouse Come to a head, as he Got the car started, The motor have it full tilt, and the car shot Out from under his stool, and ploughed him on The floor. Hur! Hur!

Married the Cook

In a state bordering on the Atlantic coast is a town which had an important part in the history of the war of the American Revolution. Therefore the members of the "old families" hold their heads high and consider themselves among the elect.

Into the home of one of these "first families" came Bridget Carroll to serve as cook. Bridget was wholesome appearing and light-hearted, so it was natural she should attract more attention than is usually paid to a servant in the house, and she was particularly noticed by the only son, who began to try surreptitiously to engage her in conversation now and then. She paid no attention to him and it began to pique him. One morning he sprang out from a place of concealment and caught her in his arms and kissed her several times. Then, white with anger, Bridget administered such a slap as the young man had never before experienced. She was sure she would be dismissed for this but days passed without any evidence that such one knew of the incident beyond the two persons concerned. After a while he met her and tried humbly to apologize, but she would have nothing to do with him. He tried again and again to win her attention without success, then at last he went to his mother and told her he was hopelessly in love with their cook. The cook was summarily dismissed and the young man sent away. Bridget secured another position and the young man wandered abroad for a long time. But wherever he went the flattering attentions from young women of his own station in life only wearied him and made him miss Bridget all the more. He returned home and tried in vain to call on her. Finally he wrote her a proposal of marriage. She replied that she did not believe in unequal marriages and knew that all through the future years she would be reminded of her humble origin by his family and friends, and for the sake of her future happiness she would not consider him. The man showed this letter to his father and mother, who were greatly relieved. The father was fool enough to go and offer the girl money if she would promise to persist in refusing his son. Bridget answered him with such cutting sarcasm that he went away feeling like a member of one of the last families. The young man had never been strong and now he brooded over the only thing in which he had ever been crossed in his life. The family physician warned his parents that he would develop tuberculosis if he continued to worry. In vain did they plead with him. He declared he did not want to live unless he could have Bridget. This final result of it all was that the old father had to go and plead with his former cook to marry his son. It happened that she really had come to care for him after all his persistence, so she appeared before both parents and asked them first to give their promise that she never would suffer insults or humiliations through being reminded in word or deed of her former inferior position. This promise was never broken. After her marriage Bridget made every effort to improve herself in every way and she became one of the most popular of society matrons. Last summer her oldest daughter was one of the prettiest belles at one of the eastern resorts and her handsome young son is in a fair way to succeed to the banking business, as his grandfather and father have done.—Chicago Tribune.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

The restaurant at the Y.M.C.A. started in business again for the winter season, yesterday, and I notice that one Jack Talliferro pronounced as if it were spelled "Tolliver," by the way, is to be its manager and I assume, responsible for the quality of the grub. The Y.M.C.A. restaurant ought to have a very good patronage this fall if it will serve food of such excellent quality as to attract the patronage of the scores of young men who live in the Y.M.C.A. dormitory. It is announced that the association restaurant is to make a specialty of a 40 cent lunch at noon. I intend to drop in there in a few days and try this 40 cent lunch and if it fails to come up to my reasonable expectations or should be skimpy and the food of poor quality, the Sphinx will have nothing on me in respect to my mentioning that restaurant in this column. However, I'm no killjoy. I hope and expect good results.

My congratulations to Lionel Desroches, 12 years old, mainly little son of Mr. and Mrs. Francois Desroches, 463 Moody street. Carnegie society is in a position to reward and encourage such heroism as Louise's. I hope it will. In connection with this, too, I do not want to forget to give my congratulations to Patrolman Frechette whom I understand finished the job of saving the little life. The Redoubt boy was unconscious when taken out of the water, but Frechette worked a long time over the lad until he breathed again. We have to admire that kind of a cop. There used to be a time when all a cop had to know was how to get a drunk to the station, but now a police officer must know many other things, none of which is more important than the art of saving victims of water, gas and poison, known as first aid treatment.

A reader 'phoned me yesterday to the effect that I was not specific enough when I commended the manager of the Strand theatre in Haverhill for his efforts in collecting peach stones for the government to be made into mask charcoal. It seems that the manager of the Strand theatre is a former Lowell boy, Clyde Dupras, who has managed playhouses in this city and is very well known here. Some managers of motion picture houses can usually be found among the leaders of every good movement in the community and they say Dupras is that sort.

One of the good Lowell women who has devoted a great deal of her time and efforts to collecting books and magazines for the soldiers in cantonments tells me that any person making up a bundle of magazines to send to the soldiers, should not by any means call out and discard either the so-called women's magazines or fashion magazines. I mean, periodicals, for instance, that contain nothing but pictures and text pertaining to women's styles.

"What in the world do soldiers want with magazines that treat of nothing but styles for women?" I asked this woman.
"It is explained like this," she answered, "It has been found particularly in the camps where drafted men are in training, that perhaps there are a number of men who, in civilian life, were employed in stores selling women's merchandise or were perhaps tailors to women, or furriers and designers of women's clothing. These men although withdrawn from their regular employment, naturally have an interest in the business in which they formerly earned a living. They are interested to get hold of fashion magazines and watch the changes of styles and compare the new with those with which they were familiar."

I don't believe there is any drug store window in town that is receiving more attention and attracting a larger crowd in the evening than one of the windows of the A. W. Dows store, corner of Merrimack and Bridge streets. The reason is an excellent war map spread out in the window. This map shows the western front. Unfortunately it is not large enough to show the part of Germany where Berlin is located but I have no doubt that when the American boys are fighting on German territory Mr. Dows will alter this condition so that

Berlin's location can be seen. The center of interest in this war map in Druggist Dows' window, is the part of the map which shows, by means of a red crayon line, the farthest invasion of the Germans into France. A little distance from this is another line, made by pinning a black wooden yarn string to the map. This day by day, marks the advance of the allies under Foch. The work and responsibility of shifting this black string so as to correctly indicate the advance, I am told, is in the hands of Mr. Dows' son, Mr. Amos Dows, a Boston engineer, who every night corrects the black line according to what the cables report of the battle which has now been in progress six weeks.

Of course I don't indict all the fine soldier boys at Camp Devens for the lack of soldierly conduct shown by two privates while the big parade of Labor day was passing, but I do feel called upon to tell about them. With their clothing, hats and shoes looking anything but as smart and trim as a soldier on leave is supposed to have them look, these two worthies lolled up against a trolley pole on Merrimack street and lazily watched the parade. Every time our flag was carried past this point, most of the men in civilian clothes took pains to uncover their heads in salute to the colors. Not so the two soldiers being held up by the trolley pole. In stead of at once standing smartly at salute with fingers to the beam of their hats, this pair, one smoking a pipe and the other a cigaret, made no move and continued to get a lot of alleged fun for themselves by ridiculing the marchers.

U. S. STEAMER SUNK

The Lake Owens Victim of German Submarine—Five of Crew Reported Lost

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—The navy department was informed today that the American steamer Lake Owens had been sunk by a submarine. Five members of the civilian crew were reported lost.

The steamer, an army cargo carrier of 2308 tons, was sent down by gunfire in foreign waters Sept. 3. All members of the naval guard were saved and only one, Chief Boatswain's mate, H. W. Lincoln, is reported slightly injured.

CHELMSFORD DAY AT CANNING KITCHEN

Today was "Chelmsford Day" at the Saco-Lowell community canning kitchen. There were visitors from other neighboring towns as well, who had brought in some fine specimens from their gardens to be canned and preserved. Mrs. Irene Burnham, the state leader in canning, was assisting and giving helpful suggestions and, speaking to a representative of The Sun, she said: "There has been a great deal accomplished since my last visit. The canning and preserving should continue right through the month of October, and as the winter comes on and folks find they are unable to keep some of their vegetables from spoiling, many will decide to put them through the drying process. I see no reason why Lowell's work should not take a high place at the exhibition which is to be held the last week in October at Jordan Marsh company's exhibition hall. They are planning this on a large scale and it will be open to all New England, prizes will be distributed, and banners are to be given out to community centers having the largest amount of perfect work."

Mrs. Graves, the manager at the kitchen, states that a bushel of peach stones was sent from Lowell yesterday to the Jordan Marsh company of Boston, where they are being collected for government use, in making gas masks. Tomatoes, and still more tomatoes, are being put into the sterilizing tanks at the canning kitchen. There is a great deal of work to be done just at present and volunteers are needed.

EVERYBODY WALKS IN OCTOBER 12th PARADE

Through an error it was stated in last evening's paper that some of those participating in the big Columbus day parade here would be mounted when as a matter of fact the reverse is the case. Dr. McCluskey, the chief marshal of the parade, believes that the idea of everybody walking is a popular one and desires to impress this upon intending marchers. Then, too, he says the fashion in all parades of recent years has been to do away with the prancing steeds.

TO FORCE HUNS BEYOND CHEMIN DES DAMES

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The French and American advance on a 50 mile front in the Alsine region with the recovery of a great extent of territory as well as important enemy positions was the feature of the battle news up to this morning. The severe character of the fighting along the southern end of the 150 mile line on which the Germans are retreating hardly has been realized here, being temporarily overshadowed by the sensational events farther north. The French and Americans had to overcome the desperate and tenacious resistance of some of the best German troops. There is now a confident expectation that further progress will be made and it is believed here that the enemy will be compelled to retreat even beyond the Chemin des Dames. Further developments are awaited with great interest.

MOHAIR TOO COSTLY FOR GOVERNMENT USE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Mohair has been found too costly for government use and the war industries board today released fall clips which recently were ordered held pending an agreement on prices. Wool will be substituted in making aviators' coats and other articles in which mohair heretofore has been used.

SOME GASOLINE SELLERS ARE PROFITEERING

(Special to The Sun)
STATE HOUSE, Boston, Sept. 6.—Tests made by the state department of standards indicate that all over Massachusetts, with the single exception of the vicinity of Camp Devens, automobilists are getting full measure when they pull up beside a gasoline pump and purchase any specified number of gallons of the liquid energy.

In the vicinity of Ayer, however, profiteering has been rampant. In one instance it was found that a purchase of five gallons of gasoline yielded the buyer only four gallons and three quarts, and of the 16 pumps tested by the department nine were found to be inaccurate.

In Worcester the inspectors found 100 per cent. of accuracy; 22 stations were tested and in every instance it was found that the specified amount of gasoline was obtained.

One garage was discovered in Holden which during the past two years has pumped out 173,000 gallons, which was found to be exactly the amount the dealer had purchased from the supply company. HOYT.

LAFAYETTE DAY

State Honors Memory of Famous Frenchman—Big Observance in Boston

BOSTON, Sept. 6.—Lafayette day and the anniversary of the first battle of the Marne was generally observed throughout Massachusetts today in accordance with a proclamation issued by Governor McCall. Memorial services were held in many of the cities and school children conducted exercises honoring the famous Frenchman. The main observance in this city will take place tonight with a mass meeting in Faneuil hall. Former Governor John L. Bates will preside and messages are expected to be read from Premiers Clemenceau and Lloyd George, President Poincare, Marshals Foch, Joffre and Haig and General Pershing. The principal address will be delivered by Judge Charles A. DeCourcy of the Massachusetts supreme court. During the day there were exercises at the Cathedral of St. Paul, on Boston common and at the naval service club.

CITY EMPLOYEES AS HUN FIGHTERS

According to a letter received by City Clerk Stephen Flynn from the city clerk of New Bedford, the exemption boards of that city are drafting city employees whether or not they have dependents, simply because the city is paying them the difference in the wages they receive from the war authorities and the wages they were receiving from the city while their families were on the payroll. The letter follows:

New Bedford, Sept. 3, 1918.
City Clerk, Lowell, Mass.: Will you kindly inform me if your city has taken any action whereby the difference between the city remuneration and government pay is made up to city employees who are serving in the United States army or navy and if so what the action was. In 1917, New Bedford city council adopted an order providing for such action and the same has worked well up to this time. We now find that men in the city's employ are being taken even though they have dependents, on the theory that the dependents will not suffer during the absence of the bread winner, since the family will receive the same money as when he is at home.

W. H. R. REMINGTON, City Clerk.

CALL OF LAFAYETTE

Memory of Great French Patriot and Friend of United States Honored Today

Months ago an American songwriter sang:

"Lafayette, we hear you calling!"
Since then we have heard that song again and again. It rings in our ears every time we see the tri-color of La Belle France and hear the tramp, tramp, tramp of our boys marching away to Camp Devens.

America has heard the call of Lafayette!

We heard his call as the Huns battered and pounded their way to the heart of France. We heard his call when French homes were destroyed, churches burned, women wronged, babies butchered, when all France lay bleeding and starving, when the Hun was but a step from final and crushing victory over the bravest of peoples.

The voice that came out of the roar of bursting shell, not to be hushed by American pacifist nor German propaganda, came clear and strong to our ears. It touched our hearts and strengthened our souls. It was answered.

America went to war. The whole great force of American resources, men, money, ships, fields, homes, went into the war.

It wasn't long thereafter before a little group stood before the statue of Lafayette in Paris. There were President Poincare of France, General Pétain, French warrior, and General Pershing, American hero, to whom was entrusted America's answer to Lafayette. Then it was that General Pershing thrilled the hearts of the French people and army with these words:

"Lafayette, we're come."
That was all. But it was enough. We had answered the call, and today we still are answering. We are answering in soldiers, munitions, food, clothing, medicines, ships, with everything we have that is needed "over there."

Exactly ten months ago today America answered in lives, for on that day three American soldiers made the supreme sacrifice in battle with the Huns in France. And more have followed in their footprints to fame's eternal camping ground.

That is the way we have answered your call, Lafayette!

Why should we have answered that call?

American colonists long years ago were fighting against Hunnish despotism of a German ruler on a British throne. They, too, were bleeding, hungry, despondent. They, too, looked across the ocean and prayed for succor. They called to France. A young Frenchman, wealthy, titled, the orphaned son of a soldier of France, heard our call—and answered it.

Marie Jean Paul Rich Yves Gilbert Motier, Marquis de Lafayette, was that young man. He had just married, but that call of a people fighting for freedom against oppression outweighed all else. He came.

Arriving at the ebb tide of American hope, Lafayette was more than an army, greater than shiploads of munitions, an inspiration, a promise, a friend in need.

Let us turn back the pages of history and read again:

Lafayette was wounded in the battle of Brandywine while rallying American troops. He fought brilliantly under Lee at Monmouth and commanded with Sullivan and Greene the land expedition dispatched to co-operate with the French fleet in an attack on Newport. He fought against the traitor Benedict Arnold in Virginia, and ran Cornwallis to cover in Yorktown.

Four years of his life Lafayette gave to this country. He went hungry for our freedom. He bled for us. He bravely stood before the fire of enemy guns for our sake.

That is why his spirit had the right to call for our help in this, his country's hour of greatest need. That is why we heard his voice beyond the roll of battle, and why we so sincerely and wholeheartedly answered his call.

Today is the anniversary of Lafayette's birth.

of Middlesex would convene at Lowell court house next Monday and it is possible that Steingard may be placed on trial at that session of court.

Gordon H. Sharpe Given Chance

Next in interest to Lowell people, of the cases considered by the grand jury, was that of Gordon H. Sharpe, a youth whose home is in New Brunswick. The grand jury indicted him for stealing an automobile from his former employer, John L. Robinson, Aug. 21. A somewhat unusual disposition was made of his case in that he was allowed to be released in temporary custody of the probation officer on condition that he at once accomplish what he told Judge Dubuque he wanted to do, return to New Brunswick and join the Canadian army, in which already two of his brothers are serving with honor.

This disposition of Sharpe's case was made after there had been a conference between Dist. Atty Nathan H. Tufts and Robinson from whom Sharpe stole the auto. The district attorney stated the proposition to the judge for final decision. As has been stated, the judge consented to Sharpe putting his record behind him and seeking a new record on the field of honor.

Durant Indicted for Jailbreaking
An indictment for attempting to break jail was returned against Harold Durant of Lowell who on June 14 tried to escape from East Cambridge jail.

Durant is the youth who has given Durant is the youth who has given the law a great deal of trouble already and apparently may cause more trouble in the future. He is the chap who, when sentenced to the Concord reformatory, succeeded in getting hold of some weapons by which he for a short time terrorized the inmates of the reformatory in a fashion somewhat after the western bad man style.

Believing the reformatory was not strong enough for him, county officials had him removed to East Cambridge jail to complete his six-year sentence. He succeeded in making a varied assortment of weapons out of bits of material he found while in East Cambridge jail and also tools with which he sawed bars of the window of his cell. He squeezed his body half way through the sawed off bars of the window on the night of June 14 last, when a patrolman on duty in East Cambridge caught him in his jail-breaking attempt and frustrated it. It is believed that this attempt of Durant's, together with his previous bad record, will have the effect of adding years to the terms for which he was serving time at East Cambridge.

Alleged Firebug Indicted

The grand jury indicted Antonios Demetrakas of Lowell, who it is alleged on June 9 attempted to set fire to a building owned in Lowell by the following persons: Helen M. Harold L. and Paul E. Chalfoux; Helen C. Stevens, Alice Ellsworth and Eliza M. Chapin. Demetrakas has previously pleaded not guilty.

The grand jury indicted Alfred Daniel and Louis Trifault for alleged breaking and entering in the nighttime the shop of Joseph Suprenant and the alleged theft of two coats and two pairs of trousers. They had previously pleaded guilty.

Elmer Freeman was indicted for breaking and entering in the nighttime the store of H. Lewis Farmer of Tewksbury. He had pleaded not guilty. Theodoros Simopoulos was indicted for carnal abuse of a female child. The indictments as thus returned constitute the result of the September session of the grand jury in cases of interest to Lowell and vicinity.

SENT REGISTRATION CARDS

Although registration day has been set for next Thursday, three Lowell men, who are out of town, have already registered. They sent their registration cards to Mayor Thompson.

The men are John Joseph Lyons, of 114 Crawford street, whose card was sent from New York, and who is now on his way to Richmond, Va.; George Robert Fairbrother, of 131 Jewett street, who is at York Harbor, Me. and Heland Joseph Green, of 355 Walker street, who is at Camp Cunningham in Maine.

SAVING OF COAL

By Consolidation of Electric Power Stations

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Reports of considerable saving of coal by consolidation of electric power stations in several cities reached the fuel administration today. The merger of such plants at Richmond, Va., Ludlow, Westover, Ohio, Charleston, W. Va., Kirkwood, Mo., and Clinton, Ind., will mean a saving of 35,000 tons of coal annually, according to the administration's estimate.
